Mighty morphin power rangers recap

Mighty Morphin Power Rangers RECAP

BY

Zack Sayles

Mighty Morphin Power Rangers RECAP 2
DAY OF THE DUMPSTER 5
GREEN WITH EVIL 7
GUNG HO! 16
THE GREEN CANDLE 17
DOOMSDAY 19
RETURN OF AN OLD FRIEND 21
THE MUTINY 24
THE GREEN DREAM 27
GREEN NO MORE 28
MISSING GREEN 32
WHITE LIGHT 34
THE NINJA ENCOUNTER 37
A MONSTER OF GLOBAL PROPORTIONS 38
ZED WAVES 40
THE POWER TRANSFER 43
WHEN IS A RANGER NOT A RANGER? 44
THE WEDDING 46
RETURN OF THE GREEN RANGER 49
BEST MAN FOR THE JOB 50

NINJA QUEST 52
A RANGER CATASTROPHE 55
THE CHANGING OF THE ZORDS 57
A DIFFERENT SHADE OF PINK 61
MASTER VILE AND THE METALLIC ARMOR 65
RANGERS IN REVERSE 68
MIGHTY MORPHIN ALIEN RANGERS RECAP 69
ALIEN RANGERS OF AQUITAR 70
CLIMB EVERT FOUNTAIN 72
THE ALIEN TRAP 74
ATTACK OF THE 60’ BULK 75
WATER YOU THINKING? 77
ALONG CAME A SPIDER 78
SOWING THE SEAS OF EVIL 79
HOGDAY AFTERNOON 80

DAY OF THE DUMPSTER

Somewhere on the Moon, two astronauts are surveying the landscape when they find what looks like a dumpster. When they open the dumpster, the astronauts are knocked to their feet as Evil Space Aliens come out of it. Goldar, Squatt, Baboo, Finster, and their leader, the evil sorceress Rita Repulsa, exclaim their gratitude to the astronauts for freeing them after 10,000 years of imprisonment and announce their plans to celebrate by conquering the nearest planet, Earth.

On Earth, in the city of Angel Grove California, teenagers Zack Taylor, Kimberly Ann Hart, Billy Cranston, Trini Kwan, and Jason Lee Scott are at the local Youth Center. Jason, who teaches karate classes, and one of his students, Zack, are sparring in front of their other students, including the intelligent, but slightly less athletic Billy. Kimberly is practicing gymnastics and Trini is doing breathing exercises. Suddenly, a pair of rude bullies named Bulk and Skull arrive, who try to hit the girls up for a date. When they start getting physical, the girls flip the bullies to the floor.

Back on the Moon, Rita and her monstrous allies have set up an ancient Moon Palace as their lair, where Rita sets up her telescope and eagerly anticipates her conquest of the blue, defenseless planet as she observes its beauty. To facilitate her conquest, her loyal servant Finster has established a laboratory where he is at work molding clay into humanoid dolls called Putty Patrollers. By running them through his Monster-Matic machine, the dolls come to life as human-sized soldiers.

Back in Angel Grove, Bulk cuts into Jason's class demanding that he be taught how to beat people up. Jason explains that karate is not about violence, but he nonetheless demonstrates to Bulk and lands him on the mat again. After class is over, Jason meets up with his friends at the adjoining Juice Bar. Suddenly, a large earthquake created by Rita rocks the Youth Center and everybody panics. Before any of the five friends can react, they are teleported out of the Youth Center in colorful beams of light.

The teens find themselves in a high-tech facility unlike anything they've seen. A strange humanoid robot comes out, which amazes Billy at how technologically advanced he is, but their attention is then turned to a booming voice coming from a glowing head in a nearby tube. He introduces himself as Zordon and his robot aide as Alpha 5, then explains to his guests of Rita Repulsa and her plans to conquer Earth. Though Zordon had defeated Rita long ago, he is no longer able to fight due to her sorcery and thus has chosen the five "overbearing and overemotional humans" (teenagers, in other words) to become Earth's defenders in his stead. The teens are incredibly skeptical at this information, but Zordon grants them Power Morphers that will allow them to summon the incredible power of the dinosaurs and fight Rita's forces.

Jason, the bold and powerful, will be the Red Ranger, and control the Tyrannosaurus Dinozord; Zack, the clever and brave, will be the Black Ranger, with control of the Mastodon Dinozord; Kimberly, the graceful and smart, will be the Pink Ranger, with control of the Pterodactyl Dinozord; Billy, the patient and wise, will be the Blue Ranger, with control of the Triceratops Dinozord; and Trini, the fearless and agile, will be the Yellow Ranger, with control of the Sabertooth Tiger Dinozord. And the five Dinozords can combine to form the mighty Megazord. Still skeptical about all of this, the five depart.

Leaving the Command Center, the teens are still unable to fully believe what they had just seen, but their attitudes change when Rita's Putties arrive to destroy them. Though they are able to hold their own with their fighting talents, the clay creatures prove too much and they are forced to gamble their lives on their Power Morphers. As this power is summoned, the teens are given colored costumes and helmets, and their strength increases, allowing them to defeat the Putties.

They are then teleported back to Angel Grove, where Rita's warrior Goldar awaits them with more Putties. As the Putties fall, Rita throws her Magic Wand down to Earth and uses its power to make Goldar grow to colossal size. Driven by inherent instincts granted through their powers, the young heroes summon giant robots in the shape of the dinosaurs, the Dinozords, and use them to fight Goldar. They eventually join their Dinozords together into a single robot, the Megazord, which overpowers Goldar and forces him to retreat. On the moon, Rita comes down with a sudden headache over her loss and blames Goldar for it.

Back in the Command Center, the teens have now fully accepted Zordon's request to protect Earth from Rita's evil plans. As per Zordon's rules, they are required to never use their powers for personal gain, to never escalate a battle with an opponent unless they are forced to do so, and to keep their identities as a secret from all. With Zordon and Alpha guiding them, a new team of superheroes is born, the Mighty Morphin Power Rangers.

GREEN WITH EVIL

Part 1: Out of Control

Jason Lee Scott, the Red Ranger, is gearing up for a karate match at a Martial Arts Expo at the Angel Grove Youth Center. His friends and fellow Power Rangers are on the sidelines to cheer him on. Despite their encouragement, Jason takes a look at his competitor, newcomer Tommy Oliver, and sees that he will have a huge challenge on his hands.

The match begins, and Jason opens a 2-1 lead on Tommy. Tommy then takes command, scoring three straight points to take a 4-2 lead. Jason recovers to tie the match at 4-4 as the final bell rings. The judge declares "no winner", and the match ends in a draw. As Jason and Tommy part ways, they express mutual respect for the other's skills.

As the Rangers part ways, Kimberly stays behind to get another glimpse of Tommy, whom she finds attractive. Trini suggests that Kim might see Tommy at school later on.

The next day at Angel Grove High School, Kim is at her locker when the school bullies, Bulk and Skull, start harassing her. Tommy intervenes, demanding that the two leave her alone. They threaten to teach the newcomer a lesson, but Tommy intimidates them with some martial arts moves, and the duo make a hasty retreat. Impressed, Kim introduces herself to Tommy and invites him to join her to hang out at the Youth Center. Tommy agrees, much to Kim's delight.

Rita Repulsa has also taken a liking to Tommy. Awed by his martial arts skills, she decides to use him for her purposes. To test him, she sends a squad of Putties to ambush him in an alleyway as he is taking a shortcut to meet Kimberly at the Youth Center. Though caught off guard at first, Tommy manages to defeat the Putties with his karate skills and a trash can lid. Rita, pleased with Tommy's performance, teleports to Earth in a gust of wind and captures Tommy with her magic wand, taking him back to her palace on the moon. She coats his body with magical green wax and chants incantations to cast a powerful spell on him, brainwashing him into becoming her servant. When he arises from his bed of wax, his eyes are glowing green, and he asks in a monotone voice how he can serve "his empress". Rita assigns him to go to the Command Center and disable Zordon, and then go destroy the Power Rangers, identifying each Ranger by name. To accomplish his mission, she gives him a Sixth Power Coin - the Dragon Coin - and he morphs into the Green Ranger for the first time, dedicating himself "to the fall of Zordon and the destruction of the Power Rangers".

The Evil Green Ranger goes first to the Command Center, which he can enter since he has a Power Coin. He sneaks up behind Alpha 5, who was recharging his energies, and inserts a virus-infected CD-ROM into his disk drive, causing him to scream and convulse. Zordon, who was in a meditative state at the time of the Green Ranger's entry, demands that the intruder reveal himself. Tommy does so, boasting of his newly acquired powers. Zordon, knowing that the Green Ranger is Tommy, tries to tell him that he is under an evil spell and offers to save him, but Tommy rejects Zordon's offer. Then, despite Zordon's pleading, he begins ripping out the Command Center's control panels and wiring, severing communication with Zordon and causing him to disappear from his energy tube. With an evil laugh, Tommy declares his work to be done and departs the Command Center in a flash of green-and-yellow flame.

Elsewhere, the boys are waxing Billy's car, the RADBUG, when the girls arrive. Kim is in a bad mood, disappointed that Tommy failed to meet her at the Youth Center, and Zack speculates that something might have come up. At that moment, the Rangers' Wrist Communicators go off. They can barely make out Alpha's erratic, garbled voice before the communicators fizzle out. The teleportation mechanisms fail, leading the Rangers to surmise that something is wrong. They use the RADBUG to get to the Command Center, where they are horrified to see the place in a shambles, Zordon missing, and Alpha staggering around talking in a warped voice. Billy, correctly guessing that Alpha has a virus, succeeds in removing the CD-ROM, rendering him semi-operational. The Rangers demand to know who attacked the Command Center, but Alpha can tell them nothing, as the virus scrambled his memory banks.

Meanwhile, Rita, desiring to lure the Power Rangers into a trap, uses her magic wand to grow her top henchman, Goldar, to giant-size. The Power Rangers, seeing this in the Viewing Globe, morph into action to confront him. After a brief battle with some Putties, the Rangers summon their Dinozords, form the Megazord, and draw the Power Sword to battle Goldar. Suddenly, Goldar disappears, and the Green Ranger, who has been watching from below, leaps atop the Megazord, breaks into the cockpit, declares, "Long live Empress Rita!", and knocks the Rangers out of the cockpit to the ground below. Then, while Rita watches from her lunar palace with glee, he then leaps down to confront them and single-handedly deals all five Rangers a decisive defeat.

The Rangers retreat to the Command Center, stunned by the surprise attack from this "guy in a green costume" and plead with Alpha for answers, but Alpha can tell them nothing. Suddenly, Alpha lurches, falls forward and shuts down; the virus is still in his system. The Power Rangers slowly accept the reality that they will have to face this new challenge on their own without aid from Zordon, as Jason warns the others that they have gotten a taste of the Green Ranger's full power and have only made it through the first round of what will be a major battle.

At that moment, the Evil Green Ranger appears in the Viewing Globe, taunting the Power Rangers and vowing to destroy them all.

Part 2: Jason's Battle

As Jason surveys the damage in the Command Center, he wishes he could "get his hands on this Green Ranger dude". Billy and Trini set to work repairing Alpha, and Billy succeeds in eradicating the virus from Alpha's circuitry entirely, restoring the robot to full operational condition. Though the Rangers take delight in this small victory, Jason reminds them that they still have to find Zordon and solve the mystery of the Evil Green Ranger.

Meanwhile, Rita returns Tommy to the alleyway where she found him, telling him to remain on Earth until further notice and swearing him to secrecy regarding his identity as the Green Ranger. After Rita departs, Bulk and Skull enter the alleyway. On seeing Tommy, they decide to pay him back for humiliating them at school earlier in the day. They march up to him and demand an apology from him. Tommy glares at them with his eyes flashing green, striking fear into them. Tommy then shoots green sparks from his eyes at their feet, causing Bulk and Skull to run from him in terror and leap into a dumpster for safety. As Tommy stalks away, Skull wonders aloud what is wrong with him, with Bulk responding that he should have his eyes checked.

Jason, his pride hurt from the beating he took from the Evil Green Ranger, takes out his frustration on a punching bag at the Youth Center, while Zack tries to calm him down. Slowly it dawns on the two of them that it must have been the Green Ranger who totaled the Command Center and that he might be working for Rita. Meanwhile, Billy, Trini, and Alpha assess the damage to the Command Center's computers, and Billy says the repairs will take a great deal of time. At school, Kimberly approaches Tommy to ask him why he missed their study date and finds that Tommy has become cold and contemptuous toward her; he tells her that he doesn't need her to worry about him and that she's not the center of his universe. Repulsed by this change in Tommy's personality, Kim walks away, her feelings hurt, as Tommy looks on with an smirk and eyes glowing green.

Meanwhile, Rita has decided to give Tommy the Sword of Darkness. As Finster recounts, the Sword of Darkness was captured from Zordon and given to her as a prize of war. If given to the Green Ranger, the enchanted weapon will allow her to maintain her spell on him forever, so long as the Sword isn't destroyed. Finster worries that Zordon knows of the Sword's power, but Rita is unconcerned since Zordon's not around to tell the Rangers about it. Goldar suggests that Tommy must earn the Sword of Darkness in a test against the Putties. Rita agrees and, at Squatt and Baboo's request, she and all her minions teleport to the beach outside Angel Grove to witness the test. Tommy answer's Rita's summons, and Goldar tells him to battle a squadron of Putties using only his karate skills; if he succeeds, he will be rewarded with the Sword of Darkness. Tommy begins his battle with the Putties. He struggles with them at first but soon begins to take them down one by one, much to Rita and Goldar's delight. When Tommy throws the last remaining Putty to the ground, Rita congratulates him and gives him the Sword of Darkness. He laughs in triumph and vows to use the Sword to destroy the Power Rangers, starting with the Red Ranger.
Tommy returns to Angel Grove High School, where Jason is looking for him. Jason tells Tommy he cannot work out with him after school due to "an emergency" and offers to reschedule. Tommy agrees, saying he understands, and Jason turns to leave. Suddenly Tommy pulls out his Power Coin and zaps Jason in the back with it, teleporting him to Rita's Dark Dimension. He is confronted by Goldar, who has stolen his Power Morpher, meaning Jason will have to face Goldar alone and without his powers. Jason struggles with Goldar, and the alien warrior has little trouble knocking him around.
Zack and Kimberly are waiting for Jason to go to the Command Center in the RADBUG. When Jason doesn't show up, Zack decides that they will have to go without him. On the way to the Command Center, Kimberly complains to Zack about Tommy's change in behavior. Zack tells her to forget about Tommy, saying they have bigger problems to worry about. Zack and Kim arrive at the Command Center to find that Billy, Trini, and Alpha have succeeded in repairing the main computer to the point where they can begin searching for Zordon. But the communicators are still down, and they are unable to make contact with Jason, who is still struggling to get his Morpher back from Goldar. The other four Rangers begin to worry about Jason.
The Green Ranger reappears in the Viewing Globe, practicing with the Sword of Darkness. Zack sees an opportunity to confront him and figure out what is going on. The other Rangers are uncomfortable attempting to do so without Jason, but Zack, as second-in-command of the team, makes the decision to confront the Green Ranger anyway. They morph into action and battle the Green Ranger again; but with their leader absent, and the Green Ranger armed with the Sword of Darkness, he dispatches them more easily than before. Desperate, the Rangers summon their Dinozords and assemble the Megazord. Undaunted, Tommy uses his Sword to hurl an energy blast at the Megazord, but the Megazord deflects it back at him with the Mammoth shield, forcing him to retreat. Rita is highly annoyed by this setback until Squatt and Baboo remind her that Jason is still trapped with Goldar in the Dark Dimension, lifting her spirits immediately. She orders Goldar to terminate Jason, but Goldar decides to toy with him some more before disposing of him.

Back at the Command Center, the Rangers are relieved to have survived this last encounter with the Green Ranger, with Zack noting that he was much stronger this time than in their first battle. Alpha manages to establish a brief and weak connection with Zordon, who tries to tell the Rangers that they must defeat Rita's Green Ranger. The computer cannot hold the signal, and Zordon fades away again, leaving Zack frustrated and Trini visibly upset.
At the Dark Dimension, Goldar knocks Jason on his back and decides to finish him off.

Part 3: The Rescue

Goldar has Jason at his mercy in the Dark Dimension and raises his sword to kill him; but as he swings his sword, Jason slips away and conceals himself in the dimension's mist. Goldar, irritated, takes his sword and starts striking it on the ground in the hopes of killing Jason. He misses Jason's head by mere inches as the Red Ranger struggles to survive, bathed in sweat and shaking in fear.
Meanwhile, Rita decides to bring more trouble to the Power Rangers by unearthing Scorpina, a warrior who has been concealed in a large boulder deep underground for ten thousand years. Rita is convinced that the combined power of Scorpina and the Green Ranger will make her plan unstoppable.
Back at the Command Center, the computer is unable to maintain the connection with Zordon, and he fades away once again. The Rangers' communicators are still not working, and they are unable to locate Jason. Zack and Kimberly split up to try and find him while Billy and Trini stay behind to work on fixing the communicators.
In the Dark Dimension, Goldar fruitlessly searches for Jason in the mist. Jason reveals himself and kicks the unwitting Goldar to the ground. Goldar, enraged at being outsmarted by a human being, renews the fight and knocks Jason on his back again.
Meanwhile, Kimberly goes to the Youth Center to ask Ernie, the owner of the establishment, if he has seen Jason. Ernie says that he has not. At that moment, Bulk and Skull step in and offer to help find Jason in exchange for kisses from Kimberly. To Ernie's surprise and disgust, Kim agrees, telling Skull to close his eyes. But as Skull leans in with his lips puckered up, Kimberly moves out of the way, and Skull kisses Bulk by accident. As Bulk angrily chases Skull from the Youth Center, Ernie promises to tell Jason to contact Kimberly if he sees him. As Kimberly turns to leave, she runs into Tommy. She asks him if he has seen Jason. Tommy lies to her, telling her he waited to meet Jason after school, but he never showed. He then mocks Kimberly for being worried about him. Kimberly stares at him wondering where all his hatred and contempt is coming from. Tommy leaves and Zack enters, having had no luck looking for Jason at Angel Grove High School. Kimberly tells Zack about what Tommy said and suggests that Zack talk to Tommy about Jason, supposing that Tommy would take Zack more seriously than he is taking Kim.
The two go off after Tommy, but Goldar, who is still battling Jason in the Dark Dimension, senses that Kim and Zack are onto something and alerts Rita. Using her telescope, she spots the Pink and Black Rangers pursuing after her Green Ranger. Determined to keep them from finding the truth, she sends a squad of Putties to intercept them. Zack and Kim manage to beat the Putties, but not before Tommy disappears. Kimberly notes that the Putties didn't attack Tommy, and she and Zack return to the Command Center.

After they leave, Rita summons Tommy to the Dark Dimension, where he appears as the Green Ranger. He tells Goldar that Rita has sent him to replace Goldar as Jason's executioner. Goldar disappears, and the Evil Green Ranger confronts Jason. The two exchange words before fighting each other for a few minutes. The Green Ranger compliments Jason as being "a skilled warrior". Jason denounces his enemy as not being a true Ranger since he fights for Rita and not Zordon, but the Green Ranger dismisses Zordon as a memory. They resume their fight. The Green Ranger kicks Jason to the ground. Jason sees his Morpher and reaches for it, but before he can use it, the Green Ranger steps on his arm, pinning him the ground.
Back at the Command Center, Zack and Kimberly lament their failure to find Jason, but Billy announces to them and Trini that he has successfully repaired the communicators and teleportation devices and can now search for Jason and bring him back.
In the Dark Dimension, Tommy is gloating over his victory over Jason, waving the Sword of Darkness over his head. He then tells Jason it is time to pay the price of defeat; but before he can strike the final blow with the Sword of Darkness, Billy, who has locked onto Jason's coordinates, teleports him out of the Dark Dimension and back to the Command Center. Jason is relieved to be back but is badly shaken by his brush with death at the hands of the Evil Green Ranger and begins telling his friends what happened.
Goldar appears to Tommy in a hologram, reprimanding him for allowing Jason to escape. Tommy protests that Jason was teleported out, but Goldar refuses to listen to any excuses, saying that Rita should have allowed him to do the job. The Green Ranger pleads for another chance. Goldar tells him he may yet get another chance, but for the time being he must remain in the Dark Dimension.
Jason relates his experience, including meeting Tommy to tell him he couldn't work out with him after school; this leads the Rangers to realize that Tommy lied when he said that he waited for Jason after school but never saw him. Despite this, they make no connection between Tommy and the Green Ranger. Jason can only tell them that the Green Ranger is a fierce fighter.
Back at Rita's palace, Scorpina has finally arrived, to the delight of Rita and Goldar. Rita sends Scorpina to Earth to attack Angel Grove's warehouse district, setting off the alarm in the Command Center. Alpha is horrified at the sight of Scorpina and warns the Rangers to beware of her sting. The Rangers morph into action to confront her and the Putties. Scorpina gains the upper hand, but at Goldar's insistence Rita recalls her, much to Scorpina's annoyance. All the minions begin arguing over who should lead the all-out assault on Angel Grove that Rita is devising, but Rita quiets them and decides that Goldar will begin the battle. Rita reveals her plan to cast a spell that will cause a solar eclipse and drain the Megazord of its solar power.
The Rangers return to the Command Center, confused as to why Rita keeps attacking only to pull back. Alpha makes another attempt to re-establish contact with Zordon, but the computer still cannot hold his signal. Rita sends Goldar to Angel Grove and uses her wand to grow Goldar to giant size. Goldar launches an all-out assault on Angel Grove, while the Rangers watch with horror on the Viewing Globe. Billy fears that this may be a trap, but Jason tells him that they don't have a choice; they have to defend their city.

Part 4: Eclipsing Megazord

Realizing they have no choice but to fight again, the Rangers draw their Morphers. But when they attempt to morph, sparks fly, and the Command Center blacks out. The beam Alpha used to look for Zordon caused an interdimensional power surge, shutting down all sources of power, including the Morphing Grid; and there is nothing Alpha can do until the power surge ends. Meanwhile, Tommy practices his swordplay in the Dark Dimension, training for the battle against the Power Rangers.

As Goldar continues his rampage through Angel Grove, Ernie evacuates the Youth Center. Bulk and Skull flee the building, but on seeing the Youth Center bus, they decide that they have a better chance of escaping by driving away in it. The duo hops into the bus, with Skull taking the driver's seat, and they speed away in the bus.
At the Command Center, Billy gets an idea; he begins reconnecting electrodes in one of the computers, and successfully restores the Command Center to full power. The Rangers' Morphers are once again functional, and they morph into action and head for town. There, they are confronted by a squadron of Putties, and Scorpina, who overwhelms them with the sting of her crescent-shaped boomerang/saber. Rita appears to the Rangers in the sky, demanding their surrender; Jason flatly refuses. In response, giant Goldar grabs the Youth Center bus carrying Bulk and Skull and, at Rita's orders, takes it to the beach.
The Rangers chase after Goldar, who has put the bus on a cliff, with Squatt, Baboo, and the Putties pushing it toward the edge, while Bulk and Skull are helplessly trapped inside. The Rangers finally summon their Dinozords and form the Megazord. Just as the bus is pushed over the edge, the Megazord catches it and puts it back on the cliff in safely. Inside, Bulk and Skull, on realizing that they survived the ordeal, celebrate jubilantly.
At the Command Center, Alpha has finally locked onto Zordon's signal and begins the process of fully re-establishing contact with him. In response, Rita sends the Evil Green Ranger back to the Command Center to get rid of Zordon for good. He sneaks up behind Alpha and pulls the plug on him, deactivating him. The Green Ranger exchanges words with the partially restored Zordon before vowing to send him to another dimension where he'll be lost forever. He begins pressing buttons on the Command Center control panel, undoing all of Alpha's work. But before the Green Ranger can leave, Alpha's backup system kicks in, reactivating him. Alpha captures the Green Ranger in a force-field. Caught by surprise and angered, the Green Ranger vows to make him pay. Alpha tries in vain to re-establish the connection with Zordon, but Zordon fades away again. Green Ranger taunts Alpha for his failure, and Alpha determines to find out who is behind the mask.
The Megazord battles with Goldar on the beach. Suddenly, Rita's solar eclipse begins, and the Megazord begins to lose power. Despite this, the Megazord manages to gain the upper hand on Goldar, knocking him to the ground. On seeing this, Rita sends Scorpina into battle and grows her into a giant, hideous Scorpion Monster. The Megazord is severely weakened by the combined power of Goldar and Scorpina and the loss of its solar energy. Goldar kicks the Megazord to the ground as the eclipse reaches its zenith. Jason calls on the Power Sword for an energy boost, and the Megazord gets back on its feet and reclaims the advantage on Goldar and Scorpina. Determined not to lose the fight, Rita uses a spell to free Green Ranger from the Command Center force-field (much to Alpha's consternation), grows him to giant size, and sends him to battle the Megazord as well! The Power Rangers are in big trouble; the Megazord is surrounded by Goldar, Scorpina and the Evil Green Ranger, and doesn't have enough power to finish the fight. Scorpina further weakens the Megazord by wrapping her stinging tail around its head and electrocuting it. Goldar and the Green Ranger then combine their swords to fire a blast of energy at the Megazord, dealing it a crippling blow. The Megazord is rocked by a series of explosions, ejecting the Power Rangers from its cockpit and throwing them to the ground below, where they are involuntarily de-morphed. A massive hole opens in the Earth, and the Megazord's powerless body falls into the fiery hole. The Rangers can only watch in shock and horror as their Zords are consumed by lava, while Rita cackles with delight at her triumph. Back at the Command Center, morale hits an all-time low, as Zack, Billy and the girls are ready to give up. Jason and Alpha try to convince them to carry on the fight; but with the Zords gone and the chances of finding Zordon at less than ten percent, the other four Rangers see no reason for hope. However, at that moment, the computer beeps with important information. When the Green Ranger was caught in the force-field, the computer locked on to his interspatial bio-vibration signals and found his identity. The Rangers turn to the Viewing Globe for the answer and are aghast with the revelation that their nemesis is, in fact, Tommy.

Part 5: Breaking the Spell

Upon discovering that Tommy is the Evil Green Ranger, the Power Rangers are in shock and denial, convinced that the computer is in error due to having been under repair. But Billy tells them that it isn't likely since all the malfunctions had been corrected. Alpha surmises that Tommy must be under one of Rita's mind-control spells, and Jason convinces the other Rangers to stay in the fight and go save Tommy.

The Rangers split up to find him. Kimberly goes to the Youth Center, where Ernie, Bulk and Skull are watching television news reports of the damage Goldar did to Angel Grove's financial district. Ernie expresses gratitude that the Power Rangers were able to save the day, but Bulk and Skull insist that they should get the credit for scaring off Goldar (who Bulk refers to as "that big ugly gold guy") and that they should be on TV. Kimberly shuts them up by telling them to dream on. She then asks Ernie if he has seen Tommy, and he points him out; he is working out on the gym equipment.

Kimberly approaches Tommy cautiously and tells him she knows that he is the Green Ranger. She is shocked when he addresses her as "Pink Ranger" and tells her that she and all other Power Rangers will soon be destroyed. Kimberly implores Tommy to let them help break Rita's spell, but Tommy refuses, tells her that Rita is his empress, and stalks off, repeating his threat with eyes glowing green.

Meanwhile, Rita and her other minions are celebrating their victory over the Megazord in their palace on the Moon. Rita decides to begin the final stage of the Power Rangers' defeat by summoning the Dragonzord, dormant in the sea for ten thousand years. She gives the Dragonzord to Tommy, and a Dragon Dagger to control it. Playing the Dagger like a flute, the Green Ranger begins using Dragonzord to inflict destruction to Angel Grove's financial district.

Kimberly regroups with the boys and tells them about her encounter with Tommy. Their suspicions have been proven correct; he is the Green Ranger, and he is under Rita's spell, which also explains his earlier attitude change and why the putties never attacked him. At that moment, Trini bursts in, breathless; she has heard emergency reports on the radio about "a monster attacking the financial district". The Rangers morph and head for downtown Angel Grove. They try to convince Tommy that he doesn't know what he's doing, but to no avail. Tommy turns the wrath of the Dragonzord on the Rangers, who are powerless to stop them without their own Zords.

At the Command Center, Alpha figures out a way to restore the connection with Zordon. He finally succeeds, and Zordon returns, telling Alpha to bring back the fallen Zords and have the Rangers destroy the Green Ranger's Sword of Darkness in order to free Tommy from Rita's spell.

As the Power Rangers struggle to survive the Dragonzord's rampage, their Power Coins start glowing, and they realize Zordon is back. An earthquake begins, and a massive hole opens in the earth once again. The Dinozords, restored to full power, re-emerge, and Zordon teleports the Power Rangers to their Zords' cockpits. Rita, seeing the sight from her lunar palace, can only scream in frustration that her advantage is gone.
Jason uses the Tyrannosaurus to confront Dragonzord. The two Zords fight a ferocious battle until Tyrannosaurus leaps into the air and kicks Dragonzord to the ground. With Dragonzord weakened, the Rangers combine their Zords into the Megazord. The Megazord, now at full power and armed with the Power Sword, overwhelms the Dragonzord and hurls it into a mountainside, disabling it. Nonetheless, Tommy refuses to surrender, so Jason leaps from the Megazord cockpit to confront him on the ground.
The Red Ranger, armed with his Power Sword and Blade Blaster, battles the Green Ranger, armed with the Dragon Dagger and the Sword of Darkness. Tommy uses the Dragon Dagger to activate his Dragon Shield, deflecting Jason's attacks back at him. Tommy gains the upper hand on Jason by firing energy blasts at him with the Sword of Darkness. But just as it appears that the Green Ranger will finally destroy the Red Ranger, Jason powers up his Power Sword and hurls it at Tommy, knocking the Dragon Dagger and Sword of Darkness from his hands with such force that Tommy is thrown on his back. Jason then draws his Blade Blaster and declares, "It's all over, Tommy!", and shoots and destroys the Sword of Darkness. Rita's spell is broken, and Tommy involuntarily demorphs as the fiery green aura that had enveloped him since being brainwashed leaves his body.
The other Rangers join Jason and also demorph, overjoyed at Jason's victory. Jason hurries to Tommy's side to help him to his feet. Tommy is dizzy and disoriented but restored to his right mind. He recalls all that he did under Rita's power and is sick with remorse and shame. Jason convinces him that it wasn't all his fault; Rita used him. He tells him he can use the Green Ranger powers for good by fighting alongside them. Tommy is reluctant at first because of everything that happened, but, after some prodding from the others, he accepts Jason's offer to join the team, and they shake hands in friendship.
From the Command Center, Alpha and Zordon watch on the Viewing Globe, and Zordon tells a jubilant Alpha that he is watching history in the making as an ancient prophecy of the Sixth Ranger joining the team is finally fulfilled. The six Rangers morph once again and rededicate themselves to fighting Rita's evil. Zordon contacts them and tells Tommy to use the Dragon Dagger to give life to the Dragonzord. The Dragonzord gets back on its feet and combines with the Mastodon, Triceratops, and Sabertooth Tiger Dinozords to create a new Zord combination, Dragonzord in Fighting Mode (a.k.a. Dragonzord in Battle Mode, or, erroneously, Mega Dragonzord).
Back on the moon, Rita is enraged that the Power Rangers defeated her once again after everything was going her way. Goldar promises to avenge her and make Zordon and the Power Rangers pay for unraveling her plans.
The six Rangers return to the Command Center, where Zordon praises the original five for not giving up despite the odds being against them. He also praises Alpha for the leadership he displayed in his absence. Finally, Zordon officially welcomes Tommy to the team as a true Power Ranger and gives him the three rules he must follow to remain under the protection of the Power. Tommy consents to the rules enthusiastically. Billy presents Tommy with his own Wrist Communicator, and Zordon declares the beginning of a new chapter in the history of the Power Rangers. The 5-part episode concludes with all six Rangers huddling together for a team cheer.

GUNG HO!

and Billy are helping Jason and Tommy train for the Team Ninja Finals, but the two trainees are not very cooperative with one another. They constantly attempt to show each other up. Trini tells them that they need to "gung ho", or work together. Rita Repulsa spies on Tommy and Jason and, seeing their lack of teamwork, plans on sending the Super Putty Patrollers to Angel Grove.

As Tommy and Jason continue to struggle to fight in unison, Bulk and Skull show off their two trainees who show proficiency in fighting together.

Rita and Finster create the new Super Putties in the Monster-Matic, then send them to surprise Kimberly and Trini at a playground. When Trini is injured, Kimberly contacts the boys for help. The Putties prove to be too strong for the six and they teleport to the Command Center. Zordon sends Jason and Tommy to locate new weapons while the other four keep the Putties under control at the factory district.

Jason and Tommy, each with one half of a map, have difficulty working in harmony to find the weapons. Along the way, they are confronted by the guardian of the weapons, the brachiosaurus-themed Zord Titanus. The two morph and recognize that both of them are necessary in fulfilling this mission. Since Jason is faster, Tommy transfers his shield to Jason for protection, while Tommy uses Jason's Power Sword and his Dragon Dagger to distract Titanus. With Tommy's help, Jason is able to get to the box containing the weapons - five Thunder Slingers.

The two return to the other Rangers and they destroy the Super Putties with their new blasters. Afterwards, Zordon formally introduces the Rangers to Titanus as an ally and says that they may call on it whenever they require its assistance.

At the competition, Tommy and Jason win after utilizing "gung ho" against Bulk and Skull's duo.

THE GREEN CANDLE

Part 1

Tommy and Zack practice martial arts together at the Angel Grove Juice Bar and then talk about an upcoming dance. Tommy says he is too scared to ask Kimberly out, but Zack convinces him to.
Meanwhile, Rita announces her next plan to conquer Earth. She plans to use the Green Candle, which, when burned out, will give the Green Ranger power to her. She sends a group of Putties to kidnap Tommy.
Tommy walks along the lake with Kimberly with the intention of asking her out. However, they are ambushed by Putties and Tommy is taken to Rita's Dark Dimension, where he faces Goldar. He explains that Tommy's connection to Zordon is cut off and when the Green Candle is burnt out, his powers will belong to Rita.
The other five Rangers arrive at the Command Center trying to devise a plan to rescue Tommy. Then the alarm goes off and on the Viewing Globe, they see the Dragonzord attacking Angel Grove. However, Zordon informs them that is not the real Dragonzord, but the Rangers have no choice; they must stop Rita and the monster.
In the Dark Dimension, Goldar traps Tommy to prevent him messing with the candle and leaves to attack the Rangers. After being overpowered, the Rangers call for their Megazord. They battle the Dragonzord imposter, but it is too strong even after they equip the Power Sword. Meanwhile, Goldar returns to the Dark Dimension and battles Tommy. Both escape with the power of Goldar's sword. Tommy morphs and calls for the real Dragonzord with some difficulty as the Green Candle gradually weakens his powers. After being hit by the Dragonzord's tail, the monster reveals his true form, a Cyclops, and escapes right before he would have been cut down by the Power Sword.
Back at the Command Center, Alpha examines Tommy, then Zordon explains the situation to the Rangers. The wax that makes up the candle can retain a person's energy when touched. Tommy touched the candle while he worked for Rita, so once the candle goes out, so does his time as a Power Ranger.

Part 2

Zordon explains that someone must enter the Dark Dimension and retrieve the candle if they are to save Tommy's life and powers. Since he was the only other Ranger to enter the dimension, Jason decides to go. Alpha finds the doorway to the dimension and Billy creates a machine that can locate the molecular particles the Putties left behind when they kidnapped Tommy so Jason can enter the dimension. Tommy remains in the Command Center while the other Rangers head to the location.
Back at the Moon, Rita sends Cyclops down for another attack on Earth.
At the lake, the Rangers find the location and set up the device but are interrupted by Bulk and Skull, who claim that it is their property and order them to leave. They get into a scuffle that results in Bulk falling into a trash can that rolls downhill while Skull chases after him.
In the Command Center, the alarm goes off and on the Viewing Globe, Tommy and Alpha see Dragonzord Battle Mode attacking Angel Grove. Zordon says that is Cyclops again since the real Zords are on standby. Tommy convinces Zordon to let him battle Cyclops himself since the other Rangers are occupied.

He calls for the real Dragonzord, which attacks Cyclops, knocking him over and revealing his true form. He then morphs into the Megazord and exchanges hits with the Dragonzord. Tommy enters the Dragonzord for the first time and knocks down Cyclops. It briefly morphs into the Dragonzord in Battle Mode and the Tyrannosaurus Dinozord before it starts to get the better of Dragonzord.
Jason enters the Dark Dimension but gets into a battle with Goldar. Zordon then tells the other Rangers they must help Tommy. Zack enters the dimension and tells Jason they will have to come back later and help Tommy. Jason is reluctant to leave the candle, but Zack tells him that Tommy needs them. With a heavy heart, Jason leaves and the Rangers morph and call for the Dinozords, which become the Megazord. They then call for the Ultrazord and merge all three Zords together, destroying Cyclops for good.
By this time, the Green Candle has already burnt out. Back at the Command Center, Zordon explains that the only way to stop the transfer of power to Rita is for Tommy to give his powers to another Ranger. He chooses Jason, who gets the Dragon Dagger and shield. Tommy demorphs. Tommy tells Jason that he now has Tommy's powers and use them to defeat Rita Repulsa and Jason agrees.
Later, Tommy is practicing martial arts in the park when Kimberly pays a visit to check on him. They kiss and Tommy finally asks Kimberly if she would be his date for the upcoming dance. She accepts.

DOOMSDAY

Part 1

The Mayor of Angel Grove declares the first ever "Power Ranger Day", and the city marks the occasion with a large gathering in the park with everyone hoping the Rangers themselves turn up to the event. Upon hearing about it, the teens agree that the Power Rangers should make an appearance.

Rita Repulsa, meanwhile, hatched her biggest scheme yet: she will bring her Lunar Palace to Earth, greatly increasing her power, and call on the long-dormant war Zord Cyclopsus to defeat the Power Rangers once and for all.

In Angel Grove Park, a large crowd turns out for a special appearance by the Power Rangers. The Rangers arrive unmorphed to show their faces to people and check out the crowds, surprised at how many people have turned out to celebrate. Kimberly is a bit worried when she doesn't spot Tommy but assures herself and the others he'll turn up. Bulk and Skull show up as the "Incredible Bulkster" and "Super Skull" in an attempt to steal the spotlight. As Rita lands her palace in the heart of downtown Angel Grove, everyone in the city (apart from the Rangers) is transported to Rita's dark dimension.

After being briefed by Zordon on the extremely dangerous situation, the Rangers morph and teleport to downtown Angel Grove and summon Megazord to fight Cyclopsus. The Megazord proves unable to match up, so they summon Dragonzord to boost their power. Despite attacking in every battle mode available to them, the Rangers are unable to finish off Cyclopsus. Zordon finally calls on Titanus and the Rangers form Ultrazord, which succeeds in destroying much of Cyclopsus, but its head remains intact. Rita, furious over Cyclopsus' defeat, creates a sinkhole directly under Titanus, sucking it in. The Rangers attempt to rescue the Carrierzord with the Mega Dragonzord, but Rita blasts it back and Titanus is sucked inside completely before a massive explosion engulfs the Zord, presumably destroying it forever. As the Rangers fret over losing Titanus, Rita then decides to summon Lokar back to Earth, and upon arriving he instantly restores Cyclopsus, forcing the Rangers to retreat.

Back in the Command Center, the Rangers realize their options are bleak with Lokar back and their Zords still recharging from the hard battle. Regardless, they know they need to move soon if there's any hope of rescuing the citizens of Angel Grove from Rita's dark dimension.

Part 2

Rita's assault continues while the Power Rangers are forced to bide time as the Zords recharge. Jason decides to take the Zords back into battle, even at half power, over Zordon's and Billy's objections.

The group returns to the city with Megazord to face Cyclopsus again, but in its weakened state, it is overwhelmed even more quickly than in the previous battle, losing an arm in the process. Jason summons Dragonzord as backup, but it too is low on power, and Cyclopsus defeats it in one hit by severing its tail. Lokar then blasts both Zords with his own energy, taking the Megazord out of the fight completely. With both Megazord and Dragonzord down, Rita takes direct aim at them with her staff, overloading their systems. The Rangers are forced to evacuate as the Zords disappear piece by piece.

Despite fearing the worst, the disappearance of their Zords was actually a security override designed to return them to their hiding places in the event they were ever close to being destroyed.
The Rangers are involuntarily demorphed and land in a still deserted Angel Grove Park, where they are unable to use their communicators to contact the Command Center. They went to Billy's lab, where he works feverishly to retune the communicators. Before he can finish, Goldar arrives with a group of Putties, intent on destroying the Rangers while they're at their weakest.
At the same time, Alpha takes the opportunity to hack into Rita's databanks while her palace is still on Earth. While doing so, he uncovers Cyclopsus' weakness.
Billy completes his work and the group teleports to the Command Center just before Goldar could attack. Zordon then reveals Alpha's critical findings to the Rangers: Cyclopsus must adjust its systems to compensate each time the Zords change configurations. Zordon believes if the Rangers change modes frequently enough, Cyclopsus will become overwhelmed and vulnerable.
Zordon pulls Titanus from the sinkhole and with the Zords fully re-energized, the Rangers morph and teleport to the city, call for their Dinozords, and attack individually. They then form the Megazord and Dragonzord in Battle Mode in rapid succession. Cyclopsus is still dominating, but the Dragonzord manages to sever its bladed hands. After taking another energy blast from Lokar, the Rangers summon Titanus and once again form the Ultrazord. Zordon's hypothesis is proven correct, and Cyclopsis was unable to adjust to the frequent changes and locks up. Goldar is forced to bail out of the cockpit just before Ultrazord obliterates Cyclopsus for good. Lokar escapes before the Rangers can turn their attention to him.
In the Lunar Palace, Rita is furious that she was defeated again. This time Baboo, Squatt and Finster tell Rita that this loss is entirely Goldar's fault. Goldar quickly suggests they leave Angel Grove before Ultrazord blasts them. With that, Rita and her Lunar Palace return to the moon.
Back in the park, the people of Angel Grove are returned from their other-dimensional prison with no knowledge of having been transported there in the first place. The Rangers arrive to much fanfare. While a group of children argue over which Ranger is the best, Tommy Oliver clues them into a secret: "They're all totally awesome."
In the wake of their toughest battle, Zordon thanks the Rangers for their dedication and offers them the chance to give up the power and return to their everyday lives or choose to remain Power Rangers. All five choose to remain Rangers if the Earth is in danger again and Zordon is pleased with the Rangers' decision.

RETURN OF AN OLD FRIEND

Part 1

It's Parents' Day at Angel Grove, and three of the Power Rangers—Jason, Zack, and Trini—are enjoying themselves with the rest of the student body of Angel Grove High at the Youth Center. Kimberly, however, is outside wondering if her parents will show up at all considering their divorce. Trini goes out to find her and assures her that her parents are there looking for her. Meanwhile, Rita Repulsa is planning her biggest scheme yet when she orders Finster to create the Dramole monster who can hypnotize its victims with toxic gas emitted from its nostrils. The plan is to kidnap the Rangers' parents with the ransom being the Rangers to surrender. She sends a squad of Putties to attack Trini and Kimberly while they are still outside and Jason and Zack join them in fighting off the Putties. Rita uses the distraction to trap all in the Angel Grove Youth Center in another dimension just as Billy—the only Ranger not present at the party, enters and finds the Youth Center deserted. At that point, he is overcome by the Dramole's hypnotic gas, and while under Rita's control, he infiltrates the Command Center, shuts down Alpha 5, and steals the Dragon Dagger—the only thing capable of summoning and controlling the Dragonzord.

The Rangers are alerted to Billy's theft by Zordon and morph and teleport to the Dark Dimension where Billy is just about to hand the Dragon Dagger to Goldar. Goldar keeps the four morphed Rangers busy with a contingent of Putty Patrollers long enough to take possession of the Dagger and teleport back to Earth. Billy is set free from the Dramole's mind-control gas and Goldar tells the Rangers that they must surrender their Power Coins to him if they want their parents back before departing with the Dragon Dagger. Billy morphs and teleports with his teammates back to Angel Grove but not in time to keep Goldar from summoning Dragonzord and sending it in to attack Angel Grove. The Rangers summon the Megazord to hold Dragonzord at bay, but the former is slammed and severely damaged by the latter. The Rangers leap out of the Megazord in time to confront Goldar who again demands that they give up their Power Coins in order to get their parents back. The Rangers ask Zordon what they should do but Zordon tells them he cannot make this decision for them since it concerns their parents. With no choice but to save their parents' lives, the Rangers, one by one, hand over their Power Coins, placing them inside an ornate treasure box held by Goldar, and are powered down into their human forms. Goldar then reveals that he had no intention of releasing their parents, and with the Power Coins now in his possession, he believes, nothing can stop Rita now. In Rita's palace, Rita celebrates her victory over the Rangers.

Zordon and Alpha bring the powerless Rangers back to the Command Center, and Zordon commends them for doing the right thing. They wonder what they will do next without their parents or their Power Coins, and it is at that moment that Jason reveals that he did not hand over all the Power Coins. He still has the Dragon Power Coin, which Tommy gave to him when he was in danger of losing his powers to Rita. And meanwhile, back at the deserted Youth Center, Tommy has just entered the main hall, confused when he finds it empty.

Part 2

The Rangers, with Zordon's help, make a plan to retrieve their parents from Rita's Dark Dimension, but first, they will need their Power Coins back. With only one Coin left—Tommy's

Coin—the Rangers have no choice but to ask their old friend for help. Alpha 5 teleports Tommy back to the Command Center, and while Tommy is happy to help he doesn't know how he can with his powers depleted. Zordon has an idea, but it will be very risky. He intends to infuse Tommy with his own energy in place of the coin's own, morphing him into the Green Ranger as long as his power holds out. The Rangers are worried that it's too much of a risk for both Zordon and Tommy, as Zordon could possibly cease to exist, and if the powers run dry too soon, Tommy will be left vulnerable. Tommy, however, is willing to take that chance
While Goldar reawakens Dragonzord to finish destroying Angel Grove, Zordon implements his plan, nearly draining himself of his own life force, but temporarily restoring Tommy's Green Ranger powers in the process. The Green Ranger teleports to Goldar's location and confronts him, but the beast-warrior merely sends Putties to deal with Tommy and weaken his powers until they are depleted again. Despite putting up a good fight, the unstable nature of Tommy's power begins causing him pain, preventing him from fighting at his best. Seeing Tommy getting weaker, Jason has Alpha boost the power, putting him back in the fight.
After a harrowing battle, Tommy manages to retrieve the Dragon Dagger and regain control of the Dragonzord, but Rita sends Scorpina to help Goldar destroy the Zord. As giants, the two warriors battle Dragonzord until they realize that they have left the Rangers' Power Coins unguarded. Back at the Command Center, Zordon has drained away all of his life force trying to maintain Tommy's powers but manages to tell Alpha to bring Tommy back. Meanwhile, just as Tommy is within an inch of powering down permanently, he ekes out a victory by retrieving the Power Coins, with the energy surrounding the box enveloping Tommy before he is teleported back to the Command Center just as a Putty is about to strike him down. When Tommy reaches the Command Center, the physical and mental strain of maintaining his powers has taken its toll on him, and he passes out before de-morphing.
After the Rangers make certain that Tommy is okay, they work on a plan to try to restore Zordon, and Billy and Alpha decide to do the same that Zordon did for Tommy by infusing him with energy from their Power Coins. They attempt this, and to their good fortune, the energy infusion does work, just as Rita sends Dramole to attack the rock quarry outside the city. Zordon informs the team that by destroying Dramole, the Rangers' parents will be returned to Earth from the Dark Dimension, so they morph and teleport to the rock quarry to confront the Dramole monster. However, Dramole uses his hypnotic gas to mind-control Jason, Zack, Billy, and Trini into attacking Kimberly and holding her so the Dramole can finish her off Back at the Command Center, Alpha and Zordon discover that Tommy's body has been electrically charged by the force field surrounding the Power Coins, recharging his powers once more. When Alpha hands Tommy his Power Coin, he morphs into the Green Ranger once again and sends out laser blasts that incapacitate Dramole, setting the four Rangers he had put under his control free. Enraged, Rita throws her wand down to Earth, making Dramole grow. Tommy uses his Dragon Dagger to summon Dragonzord while the other Rangers summon the Megazord. A harrowing battle ensues before the Rangers call forth Titanus and form the Ultrazord, which disposes of Dramole with its finishing blast.
After the battle, Zordon is pleased to inform the Rangers that with Dramole destroyed, the citizens of Angel Grove have been returned to their own dimension, with no memory of what transpired. Jason and the other Rangers celebrate Tommy's return, but Alpha and Zordon warn that although they'll try to find a way to restore Tommy's powers for good, at the moment they are unstable and still temporary, and could fail at any time. Despite the risk, Tommy chooses to continue his work as a Power Ranger—even if it means someday he may never be one again. The Rangers hurry back to the Youth Center and express their love for all their parents, and Kimberly decides to introduce her mother and father to Tommy, just as Bulk and Skull start a food fight in the Youth Center. Soon all the adults join in, forcing the Rangers to retreat to the entryway, laughing over the fact that there is still a little kid in all their parents.

THE MUTINY

Part 1

The Power Rangers have entered themselves in a four-wheeler race to raise money for charity. As always, Bulk and Skull brag that they will defeat the heroes, even though Kimberly reminds them that it's a charity event. Mr. Caplan drops the green flag and the race is on. Up in the Moon Palace, Rita Repulsa is getting ready to launch her newest scheme to destroy the Power Rangers, but a sudden lightning storm sends everybody into a panic. Goldar declares that the storm can only mean one thing: the return of the evil Lord Zedd. The lightning storm is also seen on Earth, causing concern among the Rangers as they continue the race.

Goldar heads to a new area of the Moon Palace to meet with Lord Zedd, a fearsome man of exposed muscle and twisted metal who has already turned the room into his personal Chamber of Command. Goldar quickly swears loyalty to Zedd, who rewards Goldar by returning his wings to his back. Rita then attempts to pledge her own loyalty, but Zedd shows no forgiveness towards her due to her many failures. To prove his superiority, Zedd uses his power to create Z Putty Patrollers, a more ornate and more powerful version of the familiar clay soldiers.

Zordon summons the Power Rangers to the Command Center with distressing news of Lord Zedd's arrival. He fears that the Rangers' current powers will not be enough to defeat Earth's new menace, but he is unable to do anything about this for the time being. Meanwhile, Zedd has run out of patience with Rita's continued groveling and strips her of her magic wand and her powers, then orders her banished from the Moon Palace. Adding insult to injury, Zedd has his Z-Putties bring out a miniature version of Rita's original space dumpster and shrinks her to the size of a doll. Goldar enjoys one last laugh at his former master's expense as he seals Rita in the dumpster so that Zedd can cast it off into deep space. With Rita out of the picture, Zedd turns his attention to the Power Rangers.

Back on Earth, Bulk and Skull have crashed their four-wheelers and are attempting to steal the Rangers' own when Z-Putties arrive and send them into a panic. The Rangers morph and arrive to save them, but the new breed of Putty prove tougher for them to handle than Rita's version did, more so when Tommy's Green Ranger powers begin to fail mid-battle. While Bulk and Skull cheer from nearby, Jason connects with a punch on the Z-emblem of a Putty, causing it to explode. The other Rangers follow suit and soon the entire pack is crumbled to dust. As the heroes return to the Command Center, however, an awestruck Bulk declares to Skull that they have a new goal: to reveal the Power Rangers' true identities and become famous.

At the Command Center, the Rangers admit that finding the Putties' weak point so quickly was luck and realize that if Zedd's Putties are that tough, then his monsters must be even worse. Zedd proves them right when he transforms a piranha into the monster Pirantishead. Tommy is unable to join the fight due to his weakened powers, and so the other five Rangers head back to action without him. Pirantishead appears in Angel Grove to taunt the Rangers and shows his power by blasting buildings to pieces. The Rangers respond by summoning the Dinozords however Pirantishead responds by freezing the Mastodon, Pterodactyl, Triceratops, and Sabertooth Tiger Dinozords in place.

Part 2

Although the other Zords are frozen, the Tyrannosaurus Dinozord is still active and the Rangers summon it to take on Pirantishead. The monster takes control of Tyrannosaurus, which then attacks the Rangers instead. After receiving a power boost from Zordon, a recharged Tommy arrives and the others apprise him of the situation. Tommy summons the Dragonzord to protect them from Tyrannosaurus. The two Zords are evenly matched, but Dragonzord is successfully in keeping Tyrannosaurus at bay. However this doesn't last long as Pirantishead seizes the opportunity to take control of Dragonzord too.
In the Command Center, Zordon tells Alpha they were fortunate to anticipate Lord Zedd's return, and instruct him to prepare for 'Phase 2'. Meanwhile, the Rangers are desperately trying to avoid the Tyrannosaurus and Dragonzord's attacks. Tommy attempts to distract the Zords by playing the Dragon Dagger, and the Rangers leap to the top of a nearby building in an effort to reach the Zords' controls. That doesn't work, and the Rangers decide to retreat and consult with Zordon.
Back at the Command Center, Zordon and Alpha tell the Rangers that the Dinozords alone will be no match for Lord Zedd, so he plans to give them new Zords. The Rangers are introduced to the Thunderzords - the Red Dragon Thunderzord, Black Lion Thunderzord, Blue Unicorn Thunderzord, Yellow Griffin Thunderzord, and Pink Firebird Thunderzord. When Kimberly asks about Tommy, Alpha explains that his powers are still too weak and unstable to allow him access to a Thunderzord. Making matters worse, the Rangers must first regain access to the Dinozords before the Thunderzords can be summoned. Billy suggests he may be able to make a device that would block the signal controlling the Zords. Trini and Billy head off to work on the device in his lab, but Pirantishead is spotted at the rally and the other Rangers are forced to fight more Z-Putties in order to keep the racers from getting hurt.
At the rally, Bulk and Skull have stolen two four-wheelers from the Rangers and are trying to figure out the way to the finish line. Pirantishead appears and uses his powers to send the four-wheelers driving backwards. The monster then confronts the Rangers again and summons the Tyrannosaurus and Dragonzord to destroy the Rangers.

Part 3

Billy and Trini arrive with the device to stop Pirantishead's signal and activate it to no effect. With the Zords closing in on them, the Rangers form the Power Blaster and initially aim them at their Zords, but turn and blast Pirantishead at the last second. With the monster distracted, Billy fixes the device (he had put a battery in backwards) and activates it. At once, the attacking Zords are halted and the rest are unfrozen.
Furious, Lord Zedd uses his magic to sink the Dinozords below the Earth's surface, though Tommy sends the Dragonzord back to the ocean in an effort to save it. Zedd then throws a grenade down to Pirantishead, who uses it to grow to giant size. Back at the Command Center, Alpha reports that he was able to recover enough of the old Dinozords to create the Thunderzords. The Power Rangers summon their new Zords into battle, bringing a rare smile to Zordon's face as they come together into the Thunder Megazord.
Pirantishead makes the first attack by catching the Megazord in his chain weapon, but the Rangers recover and break the chain. With a mighty slash of its Thunder Saber, the Thunder Megazord finishes off Pirantishead and gives Lord Zedd his first taste of defeat. While Zedd rages in his throne room and berates all of his minions, Finster merely looks on from his workshop and mutters that his monsters would have won had Zedd used them instead.

Back at the Command Center, Tommy is informed that the Dragonzord's power is now as limited as his own and must be used sparingly, but the Rangers are confident that they will get their friend back to his full power. As for Rita Repulsa, the Viewing Globe reveals that she's still stuck in her dumpster and is singing to herself to pass the time. Everybody enjoys a good laugh at Rita's expense (even Zordon!), but they also see that Bulk and Skull are still stuck on their out-of-control four-wheelers.

The Rangers use Billy's device to get the vehicles back to normal, sending Bulk and Skull onto the ground in a heap. As Kimberly and Tommy help them recover, the bullies boast that they're going to expose the Power Rangers for who they really are. The Rangers simply laugh at the notion, but agree to give Bulk and Skull a lift to the finish line, where the group brings up the rear of the pack.

THE GREEN DREAM

While Ms. Appleby gives the class an assignment to write a 500 word essay about something they're interested in, Tommy is lost in thought. When Kimberly finally gets his attention, Tommy tells her about a Nightmare he's had for three consecutive nights in which he loses his powers. He feels the dreams are a message trying to tell him he's at the end of his power cycle. Kimberly doesn't know what to say to make Tommy feel better.

After school, at the Juice Bar, Billy shows Trini his latest invention while Bulk & Skull walk in with their own, which they claim has the ability to detect the presence of the Power Rangers. Luckily, Billy's invention throws Bulk & Skull's off. Tommy realizes that he has to get started on his homework and leaves. Lord Zedd spots Tommy walking alone through the park and sends down a group of Putties, who capture Tommy and take him to a cave where Goldar is waiting. Goldar tells Tommy to obtain the Sword of Power from his friends and bring it back to him. When Tommy resists, Goldar places him under a spell, causing Tommy to obey his command.

Goldar spots a fallen book from Tommy's backpack, which contains an image of a goat creature that he thinks would make a great monster. He submits the picture to Lord Zedd for his approval. Zedd approves and from the picture creates the Robogoat, who he sends to Angel Grove. The brainwashed Tommy insists that he wants to help the Rangers in the coming battle, but they are concerned that Tommy’s powers will weaken more. Tommy convinces them to summon the Sword of Power as a way of defeating Robogoat, but when they do, Tommy takes the sword and vanishes.

Tommy returns to the cave. Goldar has him give the sword to Robogoat, which causes Goldar's spell to be broken. Upset that he has betrayed his friends, Tommy morphs and faces off with Robogoat, his powers fading more and more in the process. The other Rangers come to Tommy's aid, and during the fight, Robogoat uses the Sword to open a crevice in the ground, Forcing Zack, the girls and Billy in. Jason faces the monster solo and during the battle, Zordon teleports the Sword of Power back to the Command Center. After Jason frees the others, Lord Zedd makes Robogoat grow to giant size.

The core Rangers summon the Thunder Megazord, while Tommy tries to summon the Dragonzord to help, but it fails to respond, another result of his weakening Green Ranger powers. The rest of the team is able to destroy Robogoat in the Thunder Megazord. Lord Zedd is furious as usual, but notes that his mission wasn't a complete failure, as the end of the Green Ranger has begun.

The next day Jason, Tommy, and Kimberly are all seen sitting in the hallway area after school, with their respective essays turning out well. Unfortunately, the mood changes as Tommy knows his powers are nearly gone. Jason and Kimberly try to comfort and encourage him, but Tommy knows that this time, once his powers are gone, they'll be gone forever.

GREEN NO MORE

Part 1

Tommy is dejectedly playing basketball. Kimberly walks up, and tells him that Jason told her he would be there. Kimberly asks Tommy how he is feeling. Tommy tells Kimberly that Alpha 5 ran a bio scan on him and he will know the results tomorrow. Kimberly suggests that maybe something else can be done for Tommy's powers, but Tommy doesn't want to get his hopes up. A strange illusion of Tommy appears. Tommy and Kimberly are stunned but approach it. The image of Tommy tells him he's from the future, and to remember his communicator. The illusion of Tommy fades. Tommy realizes that he has received a warning from the future. Meanwhile Lord Zedd is ready to implement his final plans in destroying the Green Ranger. Once the Green Ranger is no more the destruction of the other Power Rangers will follow. Inside Angel Grove High School, Billy and Zack are walking together. Zack is worried about his cousin, Curtis, who was supposed to arrive that day. Zack and Billy soon find Curtis surrounded by several students. Curtis is dancing and enjoying all the attention. When Curtis is done dancing, Zack introduces him to Billy and Richie. Richie and Curtis become friends and walk off together. Tommy joins Billy and Zack; they talk about what Tommy had seen earlier. Suddenly, two trash barrels come rolling down the hall, almost hitting Tommy, Billy, and Zack. Bulk and Skull emerge from the barrels. The guys ask Bulk and Skull what happened. Bulk and Skull are too terrified to talk much, and simply point down the hall. Billy, Zack, and Tommy turn around and see five new students walking down the hall. The new students are bullies who are responsible for what happened to Bulk and Skull and are wearing the same colors as the core Rangers.

Bulk and Skull leave, claiming they need to find the Power Rangers' identities. The five new teens then terrorize another student, Stewart, and take his stuff. Tommy takes it back and he, Zack, and Billy confront the new teens, who issue a threat and then leave. Tommy, Billy, and Zack help Stewart and give him back his things.

Lord Zedd who has been watching as things transpired finds the five new teenagers perfect to become his Dark Rangers. Goldar asks about the purpose of the crystal. Zedd tells him that it's slowly taking away the Green Rangers powers. Once he is no more the powers will be used for the destruction of the Command Center, and the Rangers.

The following day, in the Command Center, Tommy awaits the news about his powers with Alpha 5. Unfortunately, their latest attempt to recharge Tommy's powers has failed and Zordon tells him he only has enough power for one more fight. Tommy asks Zordon about the image he had seen the previous day. Zordon tells Tommy they're investigating it, but it's worth noting that the image of Tommy was unmorphed. This puzzles Tommy who can't think how he can win without his powers. Meanwhile, Kimberly, Billy, Jason, and Zack are enjoying some time at the beach. Trini isn't there because she is staying with her grandmother, but according to Kimberly she is concerned about Tommy's powers also. Kimberly is down on the sand with Billy searching for seashells, and she finds a funky looking shell. Her shell hunt is interrupted when the five new teens arrive, and start threatening the Rangers. The new teens claim they will be ruling Angel Grove from now on. Zedd who is watching decides that it's the perfect time to summon his Dark Rangers. He uses his staff to send an electric charge to surround the new teens and they disappear. The Power Rangers wonder what happened to the new teens. Billy suggests that they go to the Command Center for some answers. The four teleport to the Command Center.

In the Otherworld, the five new teens are greeted by Lord Zedd. He tells them he has selected them to be his Dark Rangers. Goldar protests reminding him the Green Ranger still has strength. Zedd says he doesn't have long because the Green Crystal is still draining his powers. He is confident that once he creates his latest monster, the Rangers battle it, Tommy will join in and thereby taking the rest of his strength with him. Lord Zedd then creates his latest monster TurbanShell from Kimberly's seashells.
The Rangers except Trini gather at the Command Center. Kimberly asks Tommy about his powers and he tells her he only has one good fight left. The Viewing Globe shows TurbanShell attacking Angel Grove. Zack and Jason are ready to go into battle. Tommy tells them he is ready as well. Trini teleports into the Command Center and Billy fills her in. Kimberly and Zack try to talk Tommy out of going, but when Zordon states that TurbanShell's power levels are exceptionally high and Tommy insists. Zordon tells them the decision is up to Tommy. The Power Rangers morph and head into the city. TurbanShell is already giant and laying waste to Angel Grove, and the Rangers waste no time in summoning the Thunder Megazord as Green Ranger summons Dragonzord. The Zords put up a hard fight against TurbanShell, however the monster is too powerful and easily keeps them at bay. He then summons his staff and blasts the Thunder Megazord and Dragonzord, defeating them both. The core five Rangers are ejected from the Thunder Megazord as Tommy meets them on the ground, as TurbanShell leaves triumphant.
Lord Zedd is explaining to Goldar his plans for when Green Ranger is powerless but TurbanShell interrupts him. Zedd isn't happy to see him. TurbanShell apparently needed to recharge his powers, but he tells them he had the Rangers on the ropes. This doesn't make things any better because he let them go when he had a chance to finish them. Zedd orders him back to Earth to keep fighting the Rangers until the Green Ranger's powers are completely gone.
The Rangers are running through the park to the Green Ranger's aid apparently he is getting even weaker. Suddenly, the Green Ranger disappears right before their eyes leaving them stunned. Green Ranger lands in a vast field and TurbanShell is there as well. The Green Ranger tries to fight but TurbanShell drains the last of the Green Ranger's powers. Powerless, Tommy hides.
The Green Ranger's powers are now all trapped within Zedd's Crystal. Now the final phase of Zedd's plan has begun the elimination of the Power Rangers and the rise of his army the Dark Rangers.
The Rangers try to contact Zordon, but they are unable to. Moments later, they are teleported to the entrance of a cave. Jason, Zack, Billy, Kimberly, and Trini are encased in a force field. Lord Zedd and Goldar confront the teens and introduce the Dark Rangers to them. Jason tries to convince the Dark Rangers not to listen to Lord Zedd, that Lord Zedd only cares about himself. The Dark Rangers refuse to listen. Lord Zedd holds up a crystal that contains the Green Ranger's powers. He used it to cut off their connection with Zordon, and tells them Tommy will soon be defeated. Kimberly asks where Tommy is, but Lord Zedd tells her that he is somewhere in this dimension but powerless now just like them. Meanwhile, TurbanShell is stalking

Tommy, and Tommy tries to gather his wits as he hides behind a large rock not far from the monster.

Part 2

Tommy comes out of his hiding place and faces TurbanShell. Tommy and TurbanShell battle. Tommy finds himself time and time again knocked to the ground by TurbanShell.
The Command Center is surrounded by an energy shield. Zordon and Alpha 5 cannot contact the Rangers. Alpha 5 receives more distressing news from the computer print, the energy shield is gradually becoming tighter and eventually the Command Center will implode.
Meanwhile, Zack, Jason, Billy, Kimberly, and Trini are still trapped in Lord Zedd's energy shield. Because they no longer have their Morphers, Lord Zedd decides to return them, so they can helplessly watch Angel Grove get destroyed. The Rangers are returned to Angel Grove Park. Jason tries to contact Zordon, but is unable to. Billy feels sure he can find a way to communicate with the Command Center and wants to go to his lab.
Elsewhere, Tommy is surprised when Goldar appears. Goldar tells TurbanShell he has been given the duty of destroying the Green Ranger and TurbanShell reluctantly leaves. Goldar then shows the dejected Tommy footage of when he was the powerful Green Ranger. Tommy finds it difficult to watch the footage of himself. Goldar Briefly returns to Zedd's Palace as Zedd revels in the Rangers' situation. He Also tells Goldar about Phase 2 of his plan: the Thunderzords will be reprogrammed for the Dark Rangers to use once they make their debut. In Angel Grove, Billy works on the device as Zack and Trini anxiously watch. The TV is on and soon shows footage of TurbanShell attacking the business district. The newscaster asks where the Power Rangers are. Jason and Kimberly enter and they watch the news in uneasy silence.
Goldar returns to the Otherworld and wants Tommy to admit that he is his superior. Tommy hesitates and then stumbles with the words. Goldar waits excitedly, encouraging Tommy to admit he is his superior. Tommy, very suddenly, tells Goldar he is out of his mind and battles Goldar once more. During the battle, Tommy manages to get hold of the time device, he admits he was ready to give up. But the video reminded him of all the good things he'd done as not only the Green Ranger, but of that as plain old Tommy Oliver as well. Tommy uses the device to send Goldar away. Standing alone, Tommy wonders what he should do next. He then realizes that he can use the time device to contact himself in the past. As Tommy does so, lightning strikes the sky and an illusion of him appears. The image of past Tommy tells him it's a time warp and gives Tommy his communicator. Tommy uses it to teleport out of the Otherworld and back to Angel Grove.
Meanwhile, Billy works frantically, trying to re-establish communications between the Rangers and the Command Center. Tommy teleports to Billy's lab and everyone is happy to see him. Alpha 5 appears on the computer screen. In the background, Zordon tells them the Green Crystal must be destroyed and only a Non-Ranger can do it. Tommy volunteers to go, stating he has some payback. Tommy teleports to the Otherworld. Lord Zedd is telling the Dark Rangers that the Thunderzords have been reprogrammed and they and Goldar don't see Tommy until it's too late. Tommy smashes the Green Crystal which causes the Dark Rangers to turn back to normal, and vanish. Tommy teleports back to Billy's lab in triumph, and the Morphers are returned to the Rangers. Tommy tells them after touching the Green Crystal, he feels he has enough power for one more battle.
The Rangers morph and summon the Thunder Megazord, back under their control, to battle TurbanShell. However the fight goes even worse than before as TurbanShell unleashes a full assault on the Megazord causing massive damage. TurbanShell then withdraws into his shell and uses it to ram the Thunder Megazord directly, which causes the Rangers except for Jason to eject and the Zords to forcibly separate leaving just the Red Dragon Thunderzord. It attempts to battle itself, but is defeated just as quickly and forced back into its Dragon Mode. Just as Tommy is about to summon Dragonzord, Zordon contacts him and explains that TurbanShell needs to be attacked from within with heat, then cold from the outside. Tommy hides in a crate of watermelons which TurbanShell spots and, becoming hungry, eats. Tommy then begins firing a laser provided by Billy within TurbanShell's stomach. With Tommy doing his part, Zack picks up a fire hose and starts firing cold water at TurbanShell chilling the monster from outside. TurbanShell is severely weakened and ejects Tommy and the girls and Billy rush over to make sure he is ok. Once he confirms he is, the Zords come back online and the Rangers reform the Thunder Megazord. Now with TurbanShell weak, the Rangers make quick work of the monster and destroy it.

Later in the Youth Center, the Rangers are all sitting at tables together. Trini tells them that Zordon told them that the Dark Rangers have returned to normal and have no memories of what had happened. The Former Dark Ranger teens then walk into the Youth Center, although rather quietly, and Justin orders five sodas. The others watch them and Kimberly tells the others that maybe they just need some friends. The others agree and they all walk up to them at the counter. Richie brings the sodas and says "That'll be $4.50". Justin is about to hand him the money, when Jason touches his hand and tells him he will cover the tab. Jason asked that if they would like to start over again. Everyone agrees and Justin and his friends start being nice.

Later, in the Command Center, Zordon congratulates Tommy on a job well done. The Rangers thank Tommy and tell him he is a true hero. Tommy explains to them he was about give up but then he realized it wasn't just the suit and powers that gave him strength but who he was inside was what really empowered him. Tommy tells the Rangers how he is going to miss them while he's away on school break, and they will always be in his heart. The teens place their hands in the center, for one last time, and then leap into the air, shouting Power Rangers.

MISSING GREEN

In the Youth Center, Zack is watching as Jason is training for the upcoming Golden Pipe karate tournament. However, the training is not going so well, as Jason is very much off-form. Zack understands that Jason is missing Tommy, but Jason tells him it's more than that; he feels guilt since it was his failure to retrieve the Green Candle that caused Tommy to lose his powers in the first place. Zack reminds Jason that he was there and he knows he made the right choice when he abandoned the candle to save Tommy, but Jason believes that he should have found a way to get to the candle as well and let Tommy still be part of the team.
In the Moon Palace, Lord Zedd is very intrigued to find that Jason is feeling guilty over Tommy losing his powers and has decided to use this and expand on Rita's idea by creating black, blue, yellow, and pink candles that will drain the powers of their respective Ranger. Zedd's plan is to destroy Jason by forcing him to watch as all his friends lose their powers in the same way Tommy lost his.
Zack tells Billy and Kimberly how Jason is feeling. Kimberly decides that the only solution is to get Tommy, as even though he's not a Power Ranger anymore he'd still want to know and help. As for Tommy's location, Kimberly believes he may have headed for his uncle's cabin since that's where he goes when he's feeling down. They leave to pick up Trini and head there, but Bulk and Skull have overheard the word 'Ranger' and believe they're looking for the Power Rangers too. Refusing to let anyone expose the Power Rangers before them, Bulk and Skull leave to follow them.
Zack and the others take a car to the mountains (unknowingly tailed by Bulk and Skull), but get lost and pull over to consult a map. Lord Zedd decides to strike while the four are in the open and together, and sends down Goldar to capture them and take them to his Dark Dimension. As the teens check the map, Goldar appears and the Rangers morph. Bulk and Skull see Goldar and, reasoning the Rangers will be there, set up the camera and start taking pictures only for a bird's nest (complete with eggs) to fall on their heads. Goldar succeeds in capturing the four Rangers and sends them to the Dimension of Doom. Lord Zedd allows Goldar to deal with the four himself as he plans to take out Jason. Meanwhile Bulk and Skull see that Goldar and the Rangers are gone and leave to develop the pictures.
In the Dimension of Doom, the Rangers are caged and can only watch as Goldar (in an intentionally ironic turn) uses the last sliver of wax from the Green Candle to light the new ones. The Rangers realize that if the candles are allowed to burn out they'll lose their powers just like Tommy did, but are hopeful that Jason will save them.
In the Command Center, Jason has been told of the others being captured. Alpha runs a scan as Zordon informs Jason the others were looking for Tommy so he would be able to win the Golden Pipe trophy. Jason states the trophy means nothing without his friends as Alpha desperately searches for them. Lord Zedd decides to put the trophy to use and transforms it into a monster, Pipebrain. The alarms in the Command Center warns Zordon about this new menace, but Jason doesn't know how he can defeat Pipebrain without the others. Alpha manages to find them and transmits the image to the Viewing Globe, which shows Goldar gloating as the candles have begun to melt with the Rangers weakening. Zordon sees Jason seething with anger, and Zordon tells him that this is the reaction Lord Zedd wants. He then calls Jason before him, telling him that as a leader he is often faced with tough choices and that he must remain calm and focused on who needs him the most, assuring him that he made the right choice when he left the Green Candle. Now Jason must face another decision as if he enters the Dimension of Doom he risks his own power too. Jason is determined to save his friends, and Zordon commends him on being a good leader for the team and that destroying Pipebrain will allow him to access the dimension. With that, Jason morphs.

Red Ranger faces Pipebrain in the park, who attempts to hit him with his many tentacles before setting some Putties onto him. Jason fights his way through the Putties and Pipebrain's attacks and soon defeats the clay cronies. Lord Zedd isn't impressed and wastes no time in throwing down a Grow-Bomb to Pipebrain making the monster grow.
Jason summons the Red Dragon Thunderzord which avoids Pipebrain's attacks and lets loose a stream of fire before converting to Warrior Mode. The two giants face each other down, but Red Dragon gets the advantage and pummels Pipebrain who collapses and pretends to die. As the Zord starts to relax, Pipebrain gets up and ensnares it with a tentacle before electrocuting it. This isn't enough to take it down, as Red Dragon uses its staff to release itself and does more attacks before using its finisher to destroy Pipebrain which restores the trophy.
In the Dimension of Doom, the Rangers' candles are close to their end with Goldar gloating when suddenly Jason appears and the two do battle. Goldar tries to take out Jason there and then, but the Red Ranger easily dodges his blows. However, Jason misjudges a kick and sends Goldar crashing into the candle stand, setting all four ablaze causing them to quickly burn out. Goldar disappears, and Jason moves to release the other Rangers who are seconds away from losing their powers. Upon opening the cage Jason asks the others to hand over their Power Coins, which they do. He then picks up the candle stand and places each coin on its candle before using his own to re-power them all. The candles then turn into energy and fly into the Morphers, restoring everyone's powers. Jason returns the Power Coins as each Ranger leaves the dimension through a portal, but then Goldar appears from the smoke and attempts to stop Red Ranger from leaving. Jason kicks him away and jumps through the portal as Goldar swears revenge.
In the Command Center, the Rangers sans Jason arrive and they worry he didn't make it. Zordon tells them the portal has closed and Jason may have remained behind to ensure their escape. However, thankfully, Jason arrives and the others (and Alpha) are all very pleased to see him. Zordon commends Jason for once again proving himself as a fine leader. Alpha then reports that Tommy has been located and displays him on the Viewing Globe, showing that he did indeed go to the mountains. Tommy is writing a letter and reading it out loud as he does. In it, he tells Jason not to worry about him as he just needs some time to himself, and assures his friend that he doesn't blame him for what happened with the Green Candle asks him to win the Golden Pipe trophy. He ends the letter promising to see him and others again soon, and Jason is now more than ready to win the trophy.
In his Moon Palace, Zedd despairs that the more he tries to divide the team the more they're brought together and swears to find a way to destroy them for good.
Outside the Youth Center, Jason is on his way to the tournament when Bulk and Skull arrive ready to show the pictures that prove they were close to the Rangers. Unfortunately, there is not a Power Ranger insight as the pictures simply show the nest falling from the tree leaving Bulk and Skull as the laughing stock once again. At the tournament, Jason effortlessly and expertly shows off his karate expertise and the judges waste no time in declaring him the winner. Jason is presented with the trophy, which he dedicates to Tommy.

WHITE LIGHT

Part 1

The day begins at Angel Grove Youth Center when Kimberly tells Billy and Trini that Tommy wrote her in a letter that he would be coming home at the end of the week and the Rangers decide a surprise party must be planned for his return.
Meanwhile, Zordon and Alpha 5 embark on a secret mission and shut down the Command Center. This change in energy alerts Lord Zedd in the Lunar Palace on the moon and he decides that now is the time to destroy the Rangers, so he alters the Sentinel Statue in Angel Grove Park —a statue of a giant fist—with his magic. When matured, the statue will transform into his strongest monster yet, Nimrod the Scarlet Sentinel.
Back in Angel Grove Park, Bulk and Skull continue their never-ending quest to find out the Rangers' identities and, when a meteor crash lands to Earth, they find the Dumpster in which Lord Zedd imprisoned Rita Repulsa and take it to Mr. Skullovitch's workshop at Skull's house to attempt to open it which they assume it contains secrets of the Power Rangers. Meanwhile, Zack, Kimberly, and Trini discover that the Sentinel Statue is covered in foul-smelling slime and attempt to contact Zordon with no return response. Billy and Jason, after investigating the spot where Rita's Dumpster used to be, teleport to help investigate the statue themselves just as Zedd sends the Z-Putties to attack and distract them. The teens make quick work of the clay soldiers and attempt to contact Zordon again but still with no return response. Sensing something is wrong, the Rangers teleport to the Command Center, failing to notice that the Sentinel Statue has suddenly grown a porcelain mask behind itself.
Meanwhile, Tommy is just finishing a swim in a lake in a remote location, and as he dries himself off, he is suddenly teleported off the face of the Earth. Back in Angel Grove, when the Rangers arrive at the Command Center, they find Zordon and Alpha gone and the place dark, but Billy discovers a disk that records the recent activity of the Command Center. Before he can fully decipher the recent recorded binary code, however, Zedd brings his monster to life, and it attacks the city. The Rangers morph and teleport to stop Nimrod but are easily overpowered. Zedd wastes no time in making his monster grow and the Thunder Megazord is summoned. However, Nimrod summons his minions, AC and DC. All three blast the Megazord, severely damaging it.
Billy heads back to the Command Center to see if he can find out what happened and manages to open the hidden door of white light which, after a moment of freefalling, leads him into another room where he hears Alpha and Zordon's voices. He looks through a grate into a lower room and is amazed to see the twosome in the process of creating a new Power Ranger.

Part 2

Billy hurries back to his lab where the other Rangers have returned to regroup after Nimrod seriously damaged the Thunder Megazord and relays his findings to his friends who act with initial disbelief and ask him if he's absolutely sure it's a new Ranger, and who is it. Billy confirms that he is certain a new Ranger is being created but doesn't have any more information. Kimberly mopes about Tommy, saying he should have been the one to be selected to be this new Ranger. Zack and Trini begin to agree with her however Jason trusts that Zordon and Alpha have their reasons. Billy agrees, reminding them that Lord Zedd has proven to be far more powerful than Rita and the team needs a new Ranger, no matter who it is.

Meanwhile, Bulk and Skull have tried everything they can to open Rita's Dumpster, but nothing has worked so Skull suggests seeing Ernie about a way to open it. When they leave, Rita struggles to open her dumpster herself but is unable to.
Back at the Command Center, Alpha and Zordon restore full power to the systems and summon the Rangers. Before heading there, the Rangers agree that they need to respect Zordon's judgement no matter what. Arriving, Zordon announces the Rangers are about to meet the newest member of their team, saying that since the Green Ranger powers were completely destroyed, he was convinced a new Ranger was needed. A candidate was selected and now it is time for the five to meet the White Ranger. The White Ranger descends from the sky, landing in front of them. Zordon tells the White Ranger to reveal his identity and the mysterious newcomer removes his helmet surprising everyone. Billy smiles, and Kimberly faints on the spot.
The White Ranger is then revealed to be none other than Tommy and the others are very happy to find that their old friend has been repowered. Tommy and everyone else greets each other and Tommy then gently wakes Kimberly up and she is more than happy to see him and they hug. Zordon apologizes to the other Rangers for being secretive, but he and Alpha had to ensure that Lord Zedd doesn't interfere. Kimberly thought that Tommy lost his powers for good, but Alpha corrects her that it was the Green Ranger powers that were gone for good. Zordon tells everyone that Tommy has proven himself with his courage and strength and made him an obvious choice to take on the new powers which have been created by the light of goodness and can never be taken away by evil magic like the Green Ranger's were. Zordon presents Tommy with a new Zord—the White Tigerzord—and a new white saber that he can use to operate it named Saba which has the ability to talk. He also reveals that Tommy is the new leader of the team.
Meanwhile, Bulk and Skull return to the Skullovitch workshop with a giant can opener and attempt again to open the Dumpster, while at the Command Center, the Rangers are alerted to Nimrod's next attack as well as Bulk and Skull's attempt to free Rita. The Rangers must split up to repair the Zords, secure Rita's Dumpster, and battle Nimrod all at once. Billy and Trini are sent to repair the Zords, while Jason, Zack, and Kimberly are given the task of securing the Dumpster. As for Tommy, he is sent to battle Nimrod until the others are able to aid him in defeating the Scarlet Sentinel.
The Rangers (minus Billy and Trini) morph and teleport to their assigned locations. Jason, Zack, and Kimberly must battle the Putties before they can reach Bulk and Skull and steal the Dumpster from them while Tommy, after a brief argument with Saba, sends in the White Tigerzord against Nimrod. It converts to Warrior Mode and battles the monster. Tommy almost wins until Nimrod summons AC and DC again and the threesome triangulate their attacks and shut the new Zord down.
Fortunately, the Rangers have just repaired their Zords, and Jason summons the Red Dragon Thunderzord to aid Tommy. Tommy brings his Tigerzord back on-line, and Red Dragon Thunderzord leaps on Tigerzord Tiger Mode's back, riding it into battle. Then, after it leaps off the Tigerzord's back, Tommy reinitiates the Tigerzord Warrior Mode, and the Thunderzord Assault Team is summoned. The White Tigerzord joins with the Assault Team Zords to become the Mega Tigerzord, who quickly disposes of Nimrod and its minions.

The Power Rangers then head for the Skullovitch workshop and put Rita, who has just escaped from her prison and scared Bulk and Skull into unconsciousness, back in her dumpster and send her back into deep space. Afterwards, at the Angel Grove Youth Center, the Rangers as well as others celebrate Tommy's return to Angel Grove with the planned surprise party but as Jason remarks to Tommy "But I think that your surprise... was more of a surprise... than our surprise." During the celebration, Richie shows off his karate trophy and the Rangers convince him to show them one of his moves. However, he ends up kicking the cake out of Ernie's hands and it hits Bulk and Skull who always seem to conveniently arrive in the wrong place at the right time. The episode concludes with Tommy remarking, "It's good to see some things never change.

THE NINJA ENCOUNTER

Tommy, Kimberly, and Billy meet Stone Canyon High Students Rocky DeSantos, Adam Park, and Aisha Campbell as well as their teacher Hank Anderson and his baby son Jacob, after saving the child from a runaway stroller. Later that day, the Rangers watch the newcomers win a ninja tournament against a trio of undefeated but nasty champions from Hasper City, who caused the stroller incident.

Zedd is furious when he learns that the Stone Canyon teens won the tournament as he intended to recruit the Hasper City trio because of their evil qualities. Goldar offers to search the planet for people with the same qualities as the Hasper City trio, but Zedd has no choice but to recruit the Stone Canyon teens instead. He sends Goldar to kidnap them and Mr. Anderson, while Putties, despite being defeated by Tommy, Kimberly and Billy, keep them from rescuing their new friends.

While Bulk and Skull look after Jacob, the Rangers are forced to balance rescuing the four civilians while saving Angel Grove from two monsters. They defeat the monsters and save the hostages at the last second, but Billy is severely weakened from wrestling with Zedd's evil snake. Tommy throws the snake off of Billy while Kimberly blasts it into oblivion. The two are forced to take Billy's helmet off for him to avoid suffocating. However, Rocky, Adam, and Aisha were watching from the entrance to the cave and learn the identities of the Power Rangers.

While Mr. Anderson is reunited with Jacob, Rocky, Adam, and Aisha are taken to the Command Center. Zordon decides to trust the three with the secret of the Rangers' identities, due to their bravery and after having Alpha run background checks on them and finding them to be of good character. Rocky, Adam, and Aisha take a vow to never reveal what they have learned, and everyone celebrates a happy ending.

A MONSTER OF GLOBAL PROPORTIONS

At the Youth Center, Tommy and Kimberly discuss the 1st Annual World Teen Summit which is about to begin and wonder who will represent Angel Grove at the next summit. They are joined by Rocky, Adam and Aisha before Ernie begins the summit and Billy introduces the representatives from South Africa, China, Russia, Israel, Australia and Mexico. He also shows off a four-headed statue made by the Angel Grove art class, representing strength, wisdom, courage and vitality and mentions that the representatives will be interviewing candidates to act as representatives in Switzerland. Tamara, the attendee from Israel, thanks Angel Grove for having them there. Bulk and Skull are initially unimpressed until Bulk hits upon the thought that the six representatives might actually be the Power Rangers.

Lord Zedd is also monitoring things and hits upon the idea of using the six intelligent teens to make a group of Dark Rangers: In order to so, however, they will need the Rangers' Power Coins, a task he entrusts to Goldar. In the park, Tommy, Adam, Rocky, and five of the summit attendees are comparing martial art styles, while Billy and Tamara are enjoying a picnic nearby. Billy asks Tamara if every girl in Isreal is as beautiful as her. Then, a group of Putties appear and Billy sends Tamara back to the Youth Center. While Tommy, Billy, Kimberly, Rocky, Adam, and Aisha all battle the Putties, Goldar, Squatt, and Baboo surround the other five representatives with more Putties and march them away. Bulk and Skull, still believing the teens might be Power Rangers, follow them to a cave. Bulk knows a back entrance to the cave and takes Skull to sneak inside to see what's happening. Goldar imprisons the attendees in a force field inside the cave and decrees that they now belong to Lord Zedd and that escape is futile.

While Rocky, Adam, and Aisha head back to the Youth Center to look for the representatives, Tommy, Billy, and Kimberly find a note from Goldar demanding the Power Coins for the representatives. They head to the Command Center where Zordon and Alpha confirm that the representatives have been captured and rescuing them must be the priority. Tommy has a plan but it needs all six Power Coins so Zordon contacts Jason, Zack and Trini.

All the Rangers morph and meet Goldar outside the cave, where Tommy hands over a box containing the Power Coins. Goldar taunts them that he has no intention to release the representatives but Billy reveals that the box doesn't contain the real Power Coins either. Apparently the Rangers anticipated Goldar's trick from when he ransomed their parents. The Rangers fight off Goldar and a group of Putties and free the teen ambassadors. The ambassadors are amazed to see the Power Rangers, and Tommy is surprised to learn that even people from other countries have heard of them. After they have all gone, Bulk and Skull fall to the ground from their failed attempt to get into the cave. They find the discarded box of fake Power Coins, which turn out to be chocolate. Although Bulk is at first mad, he and Skull find the chocolate to be a very good consolation prize.

Zedd uses the four-headed statue to create a new monster, Four Head. The Rangers leave the teen representatives with Rocky, Adam and Aisha and confront Four Head, shooting her with the Power Blaster. Zedd grows Four Head to giant size so the Rangers summon the Thunderzords, but the Mega Tigerzord and Red Dragon Thunderzord are soon knocked down. Zordon and Alpha send Tor the Carrier Zord, who can use its shielding power to protect the other Zords while using its firepower to help win the fight. Alpha presses several buttons on the Command Center console which causes Tor to appear. Four Head knocks the new Zord onto its back but the Red Dragon Thunderzord rights it. Tor then transforms into Warrior Mode and fires a volley of blasts at Four Head. He opens his shell and allows the Red Dragon Thunderzord inside, protecting it from Four Head's next attack and allowing the Zord to recharge. All of the Zords then combine to form the Thunder Ultrazord which flies into the air and lands on top of Four Head, destroying her.

Later, Tommy, Kimberly, Rocky, Adam, and Aisha are all in the audience at the Youth Center. Rocky, Aisha, and Adam congratulate Tommy and Kimberly on a job well done. The summit attendees give their final remarks stating that people are similar no matter where they're from, and that no problem is too big to handle if everyone works together, including bringing peace to the world. Billy gets the last word at the summit, talking about how they've learned that by working together they can make the world a better place, and the crowd responds with a round of applause.

ZED WAVES

On the day of the Stone Canyon Triathlon, Tommy and Billy visit Rocky, Adam, and Aisha at the starting line to wish them good luck in the race. They will be watching the race from the opposite side of the lake. Kimberly arrives and tells Tommy and Billy that she heard that a decision will soon be made regarding which Angel Grove students will be chosen to attend the World Teen Peace Conference. Billy remarks how much of a prestigious honor it would be to be chosen and Kimberly hints that, since he is a high honors student, they might pick him. Tommy's troubled by that idea, worried about what would happen to the Power Rangers if Billy leaves to attend the conference. They all worry what would happen if any of them were chosen. The triathlon race begins and the participants dive into the lake to begin the first leg. Meanwhile, Lord Zedd and Goldar are looking forward to taking advantage of the distraction caused by the race.

Bulk and Skull are watching the race from a canoe on the lake and think that some of the racers could be Power Rangers, since they are so athletically gifted. Bulk has brought a homemade device called an "energy output meter", thinking that a Power Ranger would likely project more energy than a normal person, and claiming that his makeshift device can detect it. Skull pretends to be fishing as a diversion while Bulk uses the energy output meter on the racers who are swimming by. Skull accidentally catches something big, but while he's trying to reel it in, Lord Zedd teleports both their fishing pole and the energy output meter back to his base, causing Bulk and Skull to fall backwards, capsizing their boat. Bulk tells Skull that his dad is going to kill him for losing his fishing rod again, and Skull quickly dips underwater in defeat.

Lord Zedd is looking forward to unleashing his mind-controlling "Zedd Waves" upon the Earth, and he summons the monster Beamcaster to the Angel Grove Park to begin the process of transmitting his Zedd Waves. Beamcaster (who talks like a classic radio DJ) begins shooting mind-controlling Zedd Waves at random people in the park. When hit, they each are put into a trance, stand up with arms out, begin walking aimlessly, and chant: "Hail Lord Zedd", to Beamcaster's delight. The alarm sounds in the Command Center, causing Alpha and Zordon to notify Tommy, Billy, and Kimberly. Rocky, Adam, and Aisha arrive at the other side of the lake and Tommy, Billy, and Kimberly help them to quickly change into biking outfits so they can start the next leg of the race. They miss Alpha's communicator alert, so Zordon suggests contacting Jason, Zack, and Trini instead, who are just coming back to shore from scuba diving together. They morph into action at the park and confront Beamcaster. Beamcaster hits all three of them with a Zedd Wave, and they too become entranced. Lord Zedd is excited about the success of his plan and decides to send a group of Z-Putties to the park to attack Tommy, Billy, and Kimberly. As they begin to fight, Rocky, Adam, and Aisha ride by on their bikes. They jump off their bikes and assist their friends in battling the Z-Putties, ultimately defeating them. Tommy thanks Rocky, Adam, and Aisha for their help, upset that it might have affected their chance of winning the races. Rocky dismisses the idea and tells Tommy that it was the right decision.

Zordon reaches Tommy, Billy, and Kimberly on their communicators and summons them to the Command Center. Zordon uses the Viewing Globe to explain Beamcaster and his power to the three Rangers. He reveals that the other Rangers are currently hypnotized by the Zedd Waves, and the only way for them to awaken them from the trance is to reverse the Zedd Waves. Tommy asks Billy if he can make a device to reverse the waves, and he agrees to give it a shot. Zordon warns them that the longer people are hypnotized, the harder it will be to reverse the effects.

Meanwhile, the triathlon continues in the park, and Rocky, Adam, and Aisha are back in the race. Bulk and Skull happen upon Beamcaster, who hits them both with Zedd Waves, hypnotizing them as well. Beamcaster appears near a crowd watching the race and hypnotizes them all. Billy's device isn't fully tested, but Tommy insists that they have to try using it regardless. Zordon warns them to avoid the Zedd Waves themselves, and the three Rangers morph into action. Beamcaster knocks the wave reversal device out of Billy's hands, and all of the hypnotized people start marching towards the Rangers, preventing them from retrieving the device. The mob crushes the device as they mindlessly march towards the Rangers. Beamcaster hits Billy and Kimberly with Zedd Waves, hypnotizing them as well. Zordon and Alpha are worried as Tommy is the only Ranger not hypnotized. He confronts Beamcaster, who throws a cherry bomb at him. Tommy dodges the bomb, but Beamcaster throws several more at him. He finally hits Tommy with a Zedd Wave, hypnotizing him as well.

Rocky, Adam, and Aisha arrive to see the large mob of hypnotized people and leap off their bikes to look and Rocky picks up Billy's crushed device, which makes the hypnotized people to believe that they're Power Rangers and go after them, but they're rescued by Alpha who teleports them without warning to the Command Center. Zordon explains the situation to them. Alpha tells them about the crushed reverser device, and Aisha notices that while the outer casing is destroyed, the internal components are not badly damaged. She's familiar with fixing radio frequency technology because she worked at a radio station for the last three summers, so she quickly repairs the device back to working order. They fire the device at the Viewing Glove, aiming the reversal beams through the globe at the Rangers who are in the park. The beam isn't strong enough to reverse the Zedd Waves' effects on the Rangers, so Zordon offers to amplify the beam's strength with his "brain power". He projects beams of energy from himself to the device, which increases its power and breaks the spell on the Rangers. They teleport to the Command Center, where Zordon explains that Rocky, Adam, and Aisha saved them, and tells them to use the frequency reverser on Beamcaster to destroy him.

The Rangers teleport back to the park and confront Beamcaster again, where Billy fires the reversal device at him, but he reflects the beam back at the Rangers. Beamcaster tries throwing several bombs at the Rangers, but Tommy catches two of them and throws them back at him, exploding on contact. The Rangers form the Power Blaster and fire it at Beamcaster, which destroys him.

Back in the park, all of the people who were hypnotized by the Zedd Waves immediately snap out of their trance, including Bulk and Skull, who have no memory of the ordeal. Shortly thereafter, the final leg of the triathlon is finishing up, as Tommy, Billy, and Kimberly wait at the finish line. Rocky, Adam, and Aisha don't win the race, but they finish strong. Billy congratulates them, and Rocky thanks them for waiting for them at the finish line. Kimberly feels bad about ruining their chances of winning, but Aisha is content as they tried hard. Adam says that helping them out is one of the most important things they've ever done, so it was worth it. They all exchange handshakes in mutual appreciation.

THE POWER TRANSFER

Part 1

Jason, Zack, and Trini are chosen for the World Peace Conference in Switzerland. This means the Power Rangers are going to need a trio of replacements. In order to transfer the powers to anyone else, the Rangers must travel to a place called the Deserted Planet.
There, they attempt to locate the fabled Sword of Light. The Rangers are not alone on the Deserted Planet as Lord Zedd and Goldar have followed in their own massive Zord called Serpentera. Serpentera proceeds to nearly crush the Red Dragon Thunderzord and Tor the Shuttlezord in one of its clawed feet, who barely manage to get away.
Back on Earth, to prevent Zordon from choosing any replacements, Baboo and Squatt activate the Sleep Machine, which knocks out most of Angel Grove. Rocky, Adam, and Aisha (who have recently transferred to Angel Grove High School) are spared and try to destroy the machine, only to end up captured by Putties.
Elsewhere, just when the Power Rangers locate the Sword of Light, Zedd decides to destroy them along with the sword and fires Serpentera's laser-breath, obliterating most of the Deserted Planet.

Part 2

Rocky, Adam, and Aisha are about to face the same slumbering fate as the rest of the city until Adam's soccer skills helps to take out the Sleep Machine. Meanwhile, across the galaxy, the Power Rangers barely manage to obtain the Sword of Light and teleport away before the entire Deserted Planet is melted into slag by Serpentera.
Now able to complete the Power Transfer, the replacement Rangers, Rocky, Adam, and Aisha, are infused with the Red, Black, and Yellow Rangers' energies respectively. Zordon bids Jason, Zack, and Trini farewell and tells the replacement Rangers that they are now part of a team and welcomes them to the team as Kimberly tells Tommy this is a new beginning for them. Their first mission comes instantly as Zedd sends his latest monster, Silver Horns, down to attack the city.
Serpentera arrives to the city but due to it blowing up the Deserted Planet and the trip back to Earth, it quickly runs out of energy, much to Zedd's frustration and retreats but not before promising revenge while the Thunder Ultrazord destroys Silver Horns.
In the finale, Jason, Zack, and Trini depart to the airport, with their former teammates and former best friends and the replacement Rangers watching from afar on the Viewing Globe.

WHEN IS A RANGER NOT A RANGER?

Adam has just finished his school report on his kaleidoscope which puts Lord Zedd in a bit of a rhyming mood as he eyes the device. While Kimberly, Billy, and Tommy are playing with the kaleidoscope in the park, Z-Putties appear to distract them while Zedd turns the kaleidoscope into the monster Scatterbrain. The Rangers morph but are instantly caught in Scatterbrain's energy beam, demorphing them and wiping their memories clean.
In the Juice Bar, Bulk and Skull are dressed up in camouflage gear. Their new plan to learn the Power Rangers' true identities is to stake out a spot and hide until they catch one morphing. Nearby, Rocky, Adam, and Aisha are studying a Newton's Cradle which mesmerizes Bulk and Skull until they pass out and they take advantage of the opportunity to slip out when Zordon calls.
After being briefed by Zordon, the Rangers meet up in the park. Tommy, Kimberly, and Billy are completely unable to recognize their friends or surroundings and they have an even harder time believing their so-called friends when they talk to them about the Power Rangers and Lord Zedd. When Goldar arrives to "refresh their memories", the three brain-scattered Rangers cautiously go with Rocky, Adam, and Aisha to the Command Center.
Inside the Center, Tommy, Kimberly and Billy are in even greater disbelief when Zordon tells them that they are Power Rangers. Adam suggests that deflecting Scatterbrain's beam through prisms might be able to reverse the effect. A plan is set up to lure Scatterbrain outside of the city so as to keep innocent people out of harm's way while Adam goes to Billy's lab to fetch prisms.
Out in the desert, the other four Rangers teleport onto the scene, however they have unknowingly done so right in front of a hiding Bulk and Skull who realize to their shock that the 'dweebs' were Power Rangers all along. The two follow closely as Scatterbrain arrives and see Rocky and Aisha morph to defend their powerless friends. Adam and Billy arrive with the prisms, with Bulk and Skull witnessing them teleporting in. Unfortunately, Adam is brain-scattered before he can do anything. The remaining two Rangers are then brain-scattered while they make one final effort to grab the prisms which fly off and land near Bulk and Skull as they watch in fear.
With all six Power Rangers amnesiac and helpless, Scatterbrain celebrates his victory. However, Bulk and Skull suddenly step out to challenge him in a Wild West-styled showdown, complete with a randomly-drifting tumbleweed. Even though Scatterbrain threatens to destroy their minds too, Bulk and Skull stand their ground. Unknown to Scatterbrain, the duo have picked up the prisms and are hiding them behind their backs. After a tense standoff, Scatterbrain fires his beam and scatters what few brains Bulk and Skull have, but the beam also hits the prisms and bounces it back to the Rangers, restoring their memories and morphing them. With their memories restored, the Rangers thank Bulk and Skull for saving them. The two are mostly fine, but have also lost their memories of the Rangers' identities and the fact that they saved them.
Zedd is furious that a couple of meatheads and not the Power Rangers have ruined his plan so he makes his monster grow.
The Rangers then summon the Thunder Megazord which makes quick work of Scatterbrain.

Back at the Juice Bar, Bulk and Skull are boasting (with some added embellishment) about how they saved the Power Rangers, but no one will believe them. Kimberly and Aisha come by to admit that they believe their story and give the pair some words of encouragement, which cheers them up... or at least until they reject Bulk's offer to take them on a date.

THE WEDDING

Part 1

The Power Rangers are picked by Angel Grove High School to represent the United States as teen exchange speakers in Australia. Luckily for the Rangers, their trip is coinciding with Lord Zedd's Centennial Recharge, which means that he won't be causing any trouble for anybody while they're gone. However, Ernie tells them to keep an eye on their fellow travelers Bulk and Skull, who are always causing trouble no matter where they go.

In the Moon Palace, Lord Zedd moans about the Rangers leaving Angel Grove defenseless just before his recharge, but he nonetheless heads to his Rejuvenation Chamber and begins his nap to replenish his evil powers. Elsewhere in the Solar System, Rita Repulsa, still shrunken and trapped in her floating dumpster, has heard of the temporary cease-fire between the Rangers and Zedd and is already formulating a plan to destroy them all.

In the Command Center, Alpha 5 can't help but fret over being alone, but Zordon calmly reminds him that there will be nothing to worry about while the Rangers are away. Hoping to calm himself, Alpha decides to go for a walk.

Touching down in Australia, the Rangers and the bullies take in the sights and grab some lunch, though they are briefly concerned when a bright flash of light goes off in the sky. The flash is caused by Rita crashing her Dumpster outside the Moon Palace. She first sneaks into the Palace and finds Finster in his lab. Delighted to see his queen again, Finster uses his Spectron Reintegrator to restore Rita to her normal size. Rita then announces her new plan: she will marry Lord Zedd and turn him into her own betrothed slave by sneaking a love potion into his Rejuvenation Chamber, then throw him in a dumpster and rule everything herself. However, she also wants to present the Power Rangers as a wedding gift, and she is too impatient to wait for them to return from Australia. Finster suggests using Alpha 5 as the very person to lure them back, which Rita agrees to.

As Alpha is wandering the mountains outside the Command Center, he is jumped by Z-Putties and held down as Finster inserts a disc into the robot's systems that brainwashes and corrupts his programming, memories, thoughts and personality. When Alpha returns to the Command Center, now with complete fealty to Lord Zedd and Rita Repulsa, he calls the Rangers and tells them to morph and teleport to the abandoned Specter Theater back at Angel Grove, but won't tell them why they have to go there. Zordon demands to know what is happening. Alpha orders him to be silent. Irritated and angered over Zordon's constant blather, Alpha says that he is shutting down his communicator so he can't alert the Rangers to "his [Alpha's] plan", and then, growing more irritated, then says "I think for now I'll fix it so that I won't have to listen to you either!".

In Australia, Bulk and Skull have slipped away from the tour group as the Rangers morph and teleport to the Spectre Theater, unaware that it contains a dangerous vortex inside that will seal and drain their powers. Confused at their eerie surroundings, the Rangers hold their position and wait for further orders from the now-evil Alpha.

Alpha has had a complete change of heart. He openly insults Zordon, abuses and kicks the consoles, and even hacks into Zordon's energy tube to ruin the image of his head with hair, flowers and glasses. In the robot's own words, "The Alpha you knew is gone, forever! This is the new Alpha, with a new mission: to oversee the destruction of the Power Rangers!"

At the Moon Palace, Rita has just finished getting a facial from Finster's Moon Mud, giving her a more youthful appearance, and she is now ready to administer the love potion. As she sneaks into the Rejuvenation Chamber and has the potion pumped into Zedd's body, Finster recreates 7 of Rita's favorite monsters as well as 3 of Lord Zedd's monsters to be wedding guests and to destroy the Rangers.
Back in the Spectre Theater, the Rangers continue to look around until they are ambushed by the recently brought back Grumble Bee, Eye Guy, Soccadillo, Peckster, Rhinoblaster, Saliguana, Snizzard, Robogoat, Invenusable Flytrap, and Dramole. They decide the numbers against them are too great, and attempt to teleport out only to find they can't. Unable to leave, they decide to fight and attempt to summon their weapons, but they don't arrive as normal. The Rangers quickly realize they're in serious trouble.

Part 2

Trapped in the theater and with nowhere to go, the Rangers have no choice but to fight the monsters with melee attacks.
Back at the Command Center, when Zordon asks why Alpha would put his friends in danger, Alpha announces his inner envy and resentment of the Power Rangers, and how their destruction and the conquest of their world will be revenge for how he had been mistreated and ignored by them over the years. He also states that as a result of their deaths, he will become adored by the people of Earth and go down in history as the one that crushed the forces of Goodness like insignificant bugs.
As the Rangers continue to fight a losing battle against all the monsters, one of them boasts about how they're going to turn the heroes into Rita's wedding gifts to Lord Zedd. Now realizing what's going on, the Rangers retreat in hopes of finding a way out.
Back in the Moon Palace, Lord Zedd has just woken up from his recharge and is immediately love-struck at the sight of Rita Repulsa, the very person he banished for her incompetence, standing over him. Zedd summons Goldar, who is stunned to see Rita back, and orders him to set up a wedding ceremony as his "Worst Man" that is worthy of a queen, though Goldar secretly fears for his own future and tries to think of a way to stop the wedding and get Rita re-banished.
As to Alpha, he spots Bulk and Skull on the Viewing Globe and decides to torture them by teleporting them into the middle of the Australian Outback as revenge for their past mistreatment of him as well. When Zordon tries again to stop him, an irritated and angered Alpha shuts his tube off and revels in the silence (save for the alarm sounding, which he attempted to silence earlier), as he proclaims that the Power Rangers will now be destroyed once and for all for mistreating him.
Rita, meanwhile, praises Alpha, for delivering the message of evil. Still spiking his drinks with love potion, Rita tells Zedd about the Rangers being trapped in the Specter Theater, but Finster reports that they have escaped by finding an exit in the Specter Theater's basement level. On Rita's suggestion, Zedd throws down grenades to monsters Peckster and Rhinoblaster, who grow and stop the Rangers in their tracks. The Thunder Megazord and White Tigerzord are sent out against them and nearly win, but Alpha cuts the Zords' power supplies at the last second and leaves them helpless. When the Rangers eject, Alpha insults the Rangers again and sends them back to the Specter Theater.

Peckster and Rhinoblaster are sent back to the Specter Theater with Z-Putties to keep the Rangers inside as the other monsters return to the Moon Palace so they can attend the wedding. In the theater, the Rangers discuss the recent mysterious events and promise themselves that they will find a way out of this somehow.

Part 3

With the Rangers still trapped and Alpha still cackling over how the Rangers will suffer for his mistreatment, Lord Zedd orders the wedding to begin. All the monsters watch eagerly as Rita Repulsa begins her march to Zedd's throne. As Finster recites the vows and asks if anyone has a reason against the marriage, Goldar speaks up but is quickly shut up by Rita. The two are officially wed as "husband and fright", and soon everybody is dancing away at the wedding party. To celebrate their honeymoon, Zedd and Rita take off in Serpentera to watch the Rangers' demise.

Back at the Specter Theater, the Rangers are occupied with Peckster, Rhinoblaster, and their Z-Putties. They are able to tangle up the monsters in a net and escape through the basement again. When word reaches Zedd, Goldar rallies all the monsters to destroy the Rangers.

The Rangers are just able to reach the Command Center in spite of constant and repeated monster attacks. Billy is able to pull the evil disc out of Alpha, immediately restoring him to normal and removing him of any memory of being evil. Once Zordon is restored and their powers are replenished, the Rangers summon the Thunder Megazord and White Tigerzord to deal with the monsters as Zedd makes them grow. One by one, each monster is destroyed, and soon Zedd and Rita argue over who's in charge in their relationship.

With everything back to normal, the Rangers return to Australia just as the tour guide arrives looking for them, and Alpha also teleports Bulk and Skull back to where they were. Zordon tells Alpha that he is not at fault for what he did to everybody, and Alpha is glad to be who he is supposed to be once more.

RETURN OF THE GREEN RANGER

Part 1

The Rangers ponder a history assignment: what period of time would they have liked to have lived in? Meanwhile, Rita summons the Wizard of Deception to send the Rangers back in time. The Wizard casts a spell on Bulk and Skull to obtain a lock of hair from Tommy, but they fail. The Wizard sends Putties who succeed and from that small lock the Green Ranger is reborn, unbeknownst to the Rangers. Tommy feels ill after the spell was cast on him during battle and goes home to rest. Tom tricks the other Rangers into meeting with him and the Wizard sends them back in time to late 18th century Angel Grove, and the Rangers find themselves trapped and completely powerless. Tommy is in total shock when he comes face to face with the evil Green Ranger.

Part 2

The Green and White rangers engage in battle and are perfectly matched until the Wizard intervenes and knocks the White Ranger out. He orders the Green Ranger to bring back the Dragonzord to destroy Angel Grove. Back in late 18th century Angel Grove, the rest of the Rangers are aided by a girl named Marissa, who helps them escape. The Wizard shows up and casts a spell on some rats, making them human-sized and unleashing them upon Angel Grove. The Rangers are horrified at not being able to use their powers and are forced to flee.

Part 3

The Dragonzord is reawakened and is under the evil influence of the Wizard. Tommy is weakened due to the existence of his clone and can barely function. The White Tigerzord is no match for the Dragonzord while the White Ranger is in such a state. The Wizard and the Green Ranger corner him, but Tommy tricks them into revealing the whereabouts of the Rangers. Afterwards, Zordon reveals what must be done to free the Rangers. After bringing them back, the Rangers see the trouble here and in the past While the Rangers take on the Dragonzord, Tommy is able to take the Wizard's wand to destroy him and free the clone. Remorseful, he sends the Dragonzord back to its resting place for good. After dealing with the problem in the past and changing the monsters back, the clone decides to remain in the past and Tommy heads back to his timeline.

BEST MAN FOR THE JOB

Student elections begin at Angel Grove High as Billy suggests that Tommy runs this year for student body president, even though the latter isn't sure about the responsibility. Kimberly agrees with Billy, convincing Tommy to run as Billy becomes his campaign manager. Bulk decides to run as well, but only because it would give him and Skull access to the student files, and a possible step closer to finding out the Power Rangers' secret identities. Aisha, believing that sometimes a president is a woman, convinces Kimberly to run for president as well, with her and Tommy having no problems running against each other as at least one of them would win. However, Lord Zedd and Rita take inspiration for this, but they argue about who would have a better idea. Rita gives Squatt and Baboo a magic rope to use on Tommy and Kimberly and place them under a spell that would make them super competitive. However, Rita orders Goldar not to tell Lord Zedd about this as she wants to prove to her husband that she's the baddest girl ever.

Squatt and Baboo use the rope to trip Tommy and Kimberly in the park, and the spell takes effect, making the couple competitive and argue with each other. Goldar warns Lord Zedd about Rita's hair brain scheme and is ordered to keep an eye on her. The two start to undermine each other in the campaign, making Billy and Aisha concerned about the two's actions, while Rita sends an anonymous note to Tommy's locker, telling him to meet somebody at the park for information about winning. However, it turns out to be a trap as Goldar and the Z-Putties corner Tommy, forcing him to morph and fight. Zordon tells the others to morph and join Tommy at the park, but he and Kimberly spend more time bickering and fighting with each other than on the Z-Putties. Annoyed by this, Goldar punches Kimberly out and has the Z-Putties restrain Tommy while he takes Saba. While Tommy tries to run after Goldar, Kimberly does so as well, leading the two Rangers to run into each other, and leading to another argument as Goldar uses Saba's powers against them, forcing them to retreat.

Back at the Command Center, Tommy and Kimberly continue to argue as Billy tells them to knock it off. The others realize that Tommy and Kimberly are under a spell after Alpha 5 does a diagnostic, and Zordon summons two bouquets of roses. He explains that the only way to break the spell is to have the couple smell the roses as they symbolize love and friendship. It works, and the two Rangers are remorseful over how they acted before making up. However, the good mood is short-lived as the viewing globe picks up Rita and her minions in the park with Saba in her hands, and the Rangers realize that with Saba, she can control the Tigerzord. Billy tells Alpha to build an electromagnet to pull Saba away from Rita's hands, and while the Rangers teleport to the park, Tommy stays behind to help Alpha.

With Saba, Rita summons the Tigerzord and converts it into Warrior Mode, forcing the Rangers to summon their Thunderzords and form the Thunder Megazord. Meanwhile, Alpha completes the electromagnet but tells Tommy that the device only has a range of 10 yards. As the Rangers fight against the Tigerzord, Tommy tries sneaking behind Rita to get back Saba with the electromagnet. Just before the Tigerzord could destroy the Rangers and the Thunder Megazord, Tommy successfully reclaims Saba and brings his Zord back in control. With both Megazords towering over Rita and her minions, they are forced to retreat. Lord Zedd lords over her defeat, leading to the married couple to bicker yet again.

Later that day, Kimberly and Tommy make their speeches as student body presidents, but the latter decides to step down and let Kimberly lead as he deems her the most suited. Then, Bulk, wearing ridiculously funny Uncle Sam clothes, makes his speech about revealing the identity of the Power Rangers, but it’s interrupted by Skull’s antics with his drum. As the votes are tallied up, Tommy explains to Kimberly that hearing her speech made him realize that it doesn’t matter if he won or lose as he didn’t want to lose her, and then, Principal Caplan announces that Kimberly is the new student body president. When Bulk demands a recount, Principal Caplan informs Bulk that he had one vote. As Bulk recalls that he had voted for himself, he glares at Skull who sheepishly admits he liked Kimberly's speech. Tommy gives Kimberly a rose as a congratulatory present.

NINJA QUEST

Part 1

Lord Zedd celebrates his wedding anniversary with Rita Repulsa by giving her a new telescope, which she tests by spying on the Power Rangers as they compete for Angel Grove in a volleyball tournament against Stone Canyon. A loud explosion goes off near the Moon Palace, so loud that Billy hears it from Earth, and a skeleton monster comes crawling out of the explosion site. After pausing to lay some eggs in the lunar soil, the monster teleports into Zedd's throne room. To Zedd's shock, Rita introduces the monster as her brother Rito Revolto.
Rito quickly makes himself a nuisance and unlikeable to Zedd and Goldar. He continuously mispronounces Zedd's name as "Ed", teases him over his failure to conquer Earth, and refuses to tell Rita what's inside the eggs he got her as a wedding gift. Zedd is annoyed and yells at Rito to get his name right. As Rito watches the eggs grow, she decides to lure the Rangers into a trap by using him as the unwitting decoy. She summons Finster to bring back some of his best monsters. Zedd likes this plan hoping to get Rito out of sight.
Having won the volleyball tournament for Angel Grove, the Rangers celebrate at Ernie's Outdoor Café as he offers free food to everybody. Bulk and Skull are also enjoying the food when they overhear a pair of girls talking about the Power Rangers and how they love men in uniform. Inspired by these words and a nearby poster, Bulk announces to everyone that he and Skull are going to join the Angel Grove Junior Police Patrol. Everyone present is left in shock, including a horrified Skull as Bulk tells him to think of the uniforms and the girls.
Finster revives Fighting Flea, Lizzinator, Octophantom and Stag Beetle, who along with Rito who arrives outside the city. Rito sits down while his partners take hidden positions. Rito's presence is detected by Zordon and Alpha 5, but they are unable to identify him due to system failures in the Command Center. The Rangers are contacted and sent to meet with this unknown threat.
Rito makes his entrance to the Rangers, who morph and prepare to engage in battle. Before they can throw the first punch, Rita and Zedd cross their staffs to summon lightning and make Rito grow. The Thunder Megazord and White Tigerzord are sent out. Rito proves skilled in fighting, but is still overpowered by the Rangers. Just when the Rangers are about to finish Rito off, the other monsters are enlarged to spring the trap, and the fight quickly turns in their favor as both the Thunder Megazord and White Tigerzord struggle to survive against their combined onslaught.
Alpha tries to feed as much power into the Zords as he can. However, it's still not helping and Zordon warns the Rangers that the backlash from the power surge could cost the Rangers their powers. Tommy decides to take the risk, but things go wrong and the resulting feedback overloads and causes massive damage to the Command Center. Rito and his entourage prove too strong, and the Rangers are forced to escape as their powers vanish and their Zords fall to pieces, beyond all hope of repair.

Part 2

No longer able to morph, the Rangers return to the wrecked Command Center in utter defeat as the villains celebrate. Zordon confirms that with the Command Center's power almost gone, there is no way to restore the destroyed Zords. When Adam asks where their powers came from,

Zordon explains that beneath the Desert of Despair lies a hidden temple, where its keeper Ninjor forged the original Power Coins. Though it will be dangerous, the Rangers realize that Ninjor is their only hope, and so Zordon uses the last of the Command Center's power to teleport them to the desert.
Back in Angel Grove, Bulk and Skull have just arrived at the police academy. Skull is having second thoughts about having to do so much running, swimming, and physical activity as part of training, so Bulk carries him screaming to the registration office.
On the moon, Rito's eggs are finally hatching to Rita's delight Rito introduces the newly-hatched Tenga Warriors to her as they start flying around the Moon Palace. One of the eggs remains unhatched, and Rito reveals that it contains a Vampirus. Rita is happy nonetheless and commends him. Rito mentions that finding gifts she likes was always difficult. Rita wanted a nice little planet to take over and was offended by the dragon as her gift. She set the house ablaze in retaliation.
Zedd spots the Rangers through his visor as they cross the desert and realizes that they seek the Temple of Power. Rita gets the idea to have the Tengas attack the Rangers once they find the temple, then place the egg near the temple so that Vampirus can steal its power when he hatches.
Using a map given to them by Alpha, the Rangers cross the Desert of Despair and try to ignore the screaming in the air that gives the desert its name. Kimberly pauses to pick up a rock, which sets off a fire trap that the Rangers barely evade but burns the map to ash. Now powerless and lost, they later stumble into a quicksand pit that very nearly buries Aisha. Eventually, Billy spots a rock formation that he thinks is what the map directed them to.
The Tengas arrive to destroy the Rangers, and they prove to be far more dangerous minions than Rita's or Zedd's Putties. As the Rangers run into the rock formation, Adam accidentally triggers a hidden switch and opens a path into a tunnel. With no other way to go, the Rangers follow the tunnel to a dead-end, which is revealed to be an illusion when Tommy steps into a wall and vanishes. As the other Rangers follow Tommy, the Tengas place the Vampirus egg outside the rock formation.

Part 3

The Rangers step out to find themselves in a forest leading up to the gates of an ornate temple. As they enter, a voice demands to know what they are doing in the temple. Billy tracks the source of the voice to a blue vase and finds a tiny armored figure inside, who reveals himself as Ninjor.
After growing to his full-size, Ninjor again demands the Rangers to tell him their reasons for intruding on the Temple of Power. They explain to him of Zordon, the Power Rangers, and how Lord Zedd defeated them, but Ninjor shows no interest to their plight and tells them to leave. Tommy tries to console his friends over their loss by explaining that Zedd can never destroy their own power of friendship between them and that they'll find another way. Hearing this, Ninjor is convinced that they are not seeking power out of greed and agrees to help the Rangers.
At the police academy, Bulk and Skull are introduced to Lieutenant Jerome Stone, who has been appointed to train the new recruits. The pair's first stop is at the barber's for a police-regulation crewcut, which is poorly received by both.
The Rangers are guided by Ninjor to harness a new power from deep within their souls, the power of Ninja. They are granted new Power Coins, ninja robes in their Ranger colors, and a set of new Ninjazords.

Meanwhile, Bulk and Skull's police training proves less impressive. At Zedd's Moon Palace, Lord Zedd is furious over the idea that the Rangers have regained their powers and demand that Rito goes back to Earth to launch a full on assault on Angel Grove. Once more, he is annoyed when the skeleton calls him Ed once again and yells out to get his name right again.
With their new Ninja powers, the Rangers leave the temple grounds to battle the Tengas. They prove no match for the Ninja Ranger forms and they flee. Ninjor comes out to congratulate the heroes for mastering their power and sees them off as they morph once again into the Power Rangers and return to Angel Grove. However, Ninjor does not notice the Vampirus egg as it begins to hatch.

Part 4

The Rangers return to Angel Grove, and none too soon as Rito Revolto is back in the city and ready to destroy it. Their new Ninjazords prove tougher for Rito to handle, which infuriates Zedd. Bulk and Skull are made to run the Hangman's Obstacle Course, with Lt. Stone snapping at them every step of the way.
Rito draws a flamethrower and begins making a stronger assault. The Rangers counter by bringing the Ninjazords together into the Ninja Megazord and eventually the Ninja MegaFalconzord. This time, the fight is too much for Rito and he goes down exploding, though he slips back to the moon at the last second. Back in the desert, Vampirus is now fully-hatched and ready to capture the Temple of Power for Lord Zedd.
As the Rangers help repair the Command Center, the alarm goes off. Angel Grove is still quiet, but with the Center still mostly offline, Alpha is unable to locate the disturbance. Bulk and Skull, meanwhile, are testing every one of Lt. Stone's nerves as they repeatedly fail the obstacle course and briefly slack off, but then they take it more seriously and improve.
Vampirus orders Ninjor to come out and challenge him in the desert. When he does, Rita and Zedd make the monster grow, but Ninjor enlarges himself to fight his enemy on equal terms. The fight is detected by Zordon as repairs to the Command Center are completed, and the Rangers head out to aid Ninjor in the Ninja Megafalconzord. Ninjor shifts to his Battle Mode to wound Vampirus, allowing the Rangers to finish the monster off. With all his plans foiled once more, Zedd takes his anger out on Rito.
At the Command Center, Ninjor gives his congratulations and thanks to the Rangers for all their help and swears that he will continue to aid them in the fight against evil. Later, the Rangers and Ernie attend Bulk and Skull's graduation into officers of the Angel Grove Junior Police Patrol. Even though Bulk and Skull are now dedicated to helping the community, their clumsiness is still in full force as Bulk accidentally knocks over all the other graduating officers like a bunch of Dominos.

A RANGER CATASTROPHE

Part 1

Aisha is volunteering at the local animal shelter, and as she walks home with Kimberly, they both notice a stray white cat, but unknown to the two, Rita is glad they have taken notice as the cat is part of her newest plan to defeat the Rangers.
At the Juice Bar, Aisha reveals that the white cat would be hers if nobody claims it at the shelter. Bulk and Skull try to fine her for bringing it to the juice bar, but when Aisha reveals that she was still looking for the owner, Bulk decides that this is the perfect chance for him and Skull to get in good grace with Lieutenant Stone by finding the owner. At the shelter, nobody has claimed the cat, but Lord Zedd refuses to let the plan fail and sends Rito out to stop people from claiming the cat. Unknown to Rito, Bulk and Skull find him and decide to try and take him out, but it proves to be unaffected and they scream for back up. Aisha takes notice, and goes into her Ninja Ranger mode to attack Rito. While Aisha handles herself well, Zordon contacts the other Rangers and tells them to teleport to Aisha's location. Going into Ninja Ranger mode, they join Aisha. Per Goldar's request, Lord Zedd sends out the Tenga Warriors to assist Rito and both sides begin to fight. Unknown to everybody, the white cat watches, morphing into a young blonde woman who grins at the sight. Aisha continues to get the upper hand against Rito, and when the Tengas retreat, he runs off as he cannot fight all six Rangers. The young woman is approached by the veterinarian, revealing that she came from Australia and wants to adopt a dog, while the six demorph and head off in their own directions. When Aisha and Kimberly arrive at the shelter they expect the cat to be there for adoption; the young woman turns back into the cat without them noticing, and growls and scratches Kimberly. Since nobody claimed the cat, Aisha can adopt it and decides to name it P.C., short for "Park Cat".
At Aisha's house, Kimberly reveals she is going out with Tommy as she feels guilty being busy with her gymnastics, but Aisha notices that P.C. is missing, making her worry about her running away. P.C. morphs back into the young woman, with a red gleam in her eyes as Aisha and Kimberly try to find the cat. It is revealed that the young woman is in association with Rita, and tells her of what she has learned. Rita gives the young woman a car she created from a dumpster, and she heads off to the Juice Bar where Tommy is waiting for Kimberly. The young woman introduces herself as Kat to Tommy, and asks him for help with her broken car outside. Tommy agrees to go and look at it, and after fixing it, Kat offers him a chance to test drive it around the block. Tommy drives with her, while Bulk and Skull show Lieutenant Stone where they saw Rito, but he does not believe them and reassigns them to car wash duty.
Seeing that her plan is working out, Rita has Lord Zedd teleport the car into a wormhole where they are out of control. Rito is sent out to attack Angel Grove and is grown giant sized. Meanwhile, Aisha and Kimberly arrive to the Juice Bar with no luck finding P.C., and Ernie tells them where Tommy's at. Suddenly, their communicators go off as Zordon tells them to teleport to the Command Center. There, Alpha 5 informs them about Tommy and Kat's predicament, and Rito is attacking Angel Grove, making the Rangers conflicted over what to do.

Part 2

As Rito advances to downtown Angel Grove, Alpha 5 struggles to pinpoint Tommy's and Kat's location as he gets knocked out. As they lose sight in the viewing globe, Kat teleports from the car back to the Moon Palace in her cat form. With Tommy captured, Goldar offers to take care of the former, which Lord Zedd allows. As Billy struggles to find Tommy, Zordon says they are too late as Rito has already reached the outskirts of the city, forcing the Rangers to hold off on saving Tommy. They morph and summon their Ninja Zords to combat against Rito, but while they have the upper hand, Rito manages to force back the Ape Ninja Zord. The Rangers form the Ninja Megazord, and after landing their Power Punch, they force Rito into retreat again. This leads to Rita utilizing a back-up plan.

Meanwhile, Alpha 5 continues to look for Tommy; Rita and Lord Zedd have created an energy signal to block any attempts at finding his exact location, leaving Alpha dismayed. Tommy wakes up to see Goldar taunting him, but when he demands to know where Kat is. Tommy morphs as Goldar continues his taunts, and the Rangers find him on the viewing globe, realizing that Rita and Lord Zedd have captured him so they would not be at full strength. The Ranger do not have the power in the Command Center to get through the forcefield, but Billy takes Adam back to his lab for something that might help. Tommy fights against Goldar and the two are evenly matched, while Squatt tells Rita about where Billy and Adam are heading. Rita deems this the perfect chance to initiate her backup plan and turns P.C. into Katastrophe, who attacks Billy and Adam. The two Rangers morph, but find themselves unable to take down Katastrophe and they call for back up. The others morph and join the two, and with five Rangers, they manage to force Katastrophe into retreat.

As Lord Zedd complains that nothing has been accomplished, Rito goes off to help Goldar destroy Tommy. Rito and Goldar double team Tommy, making him lose Saba and gets restrained by Rito. As Billy and Adam tune up the machine, Tommy gets Saba back and breaks free, while Billy completes the device and adds it to the Command Center's terminal. With the coordinates now in place, they break through the forcefield, but Billy notices that Kat is not with Tommy. Regardless, they proceed with the teleportation and bring Tommy back just before Goldar could finish him. Tommy realizes that Kat is still in Rita and Lord Zedd's clutches, and Billy is unable to locate her position. As Rita blames Lord Zedd for wrecking her plan, the latter calls for Kat as she turns back into Katastrophe, and sends her back to Angel Grove. The six Rangers morph and attack Katastrophe, but Lord Zedd and Rita decide to grow her instead. The Rangers summon the Ninja Zords and form the Ninja MegaFalconzord as Ninjor joins them in the fight. With Ninjor's help by entering in his Super Mode, they defeat Katastrophe. The Rangers then find Kat, seemingly released from Zedd and Rita's capture. Lord Zedd is not upset by his defeat, as he knows that Katherine will prove very useful to him now that she has befriended the Rangers.

As the rest of the Rangers get acquainted with Kat, she tells them about her life in Australia. She leaves to get the rest of her stuff unpacked, and just then, P.C. appears to Aisha and Kimberly. Unknown to the Rangers, P.C.'s eyes glow green.

THE CHANGING OF THE ZORDS

Part 1

Kat seems to be bonding with Kimberly and Aisha as they just finished a shopping spree at the mall, but it is a façade as she is still under Rita's spell, and when she sees Tommy meet up with Kimberly, she shows jealousy at the two's relationship. On the Moon Palace, Finster reveals that he finally deciphered the Scrolls of Zordnia, and it has revealed the location of some dormant Ancient Zords. Finster explains that if he could combine the technology with one of the Ranger's Ninja Zords, he could bring the Zords to life. Zedd and Rita like this as with their own Zords, they can destroy the Power Rangers.

Kimberly invites Kat to the beach with the others, but she declines until Tommy offers her the same suggestion. Meanwhile, Finster takes Squatt and Baboo to the location of the dormant Zords, and the latter finds the foot of one covered in vines. Rita approaches Kat and tells her that she needs her to steal one of the Rangers' Power Coins without getting caught, to which Kat obeys. While Kimberly and Aisha run off to the lake, Kat reluctantly goes with them as there are too many people around to steal a Power Coin, but Rito suggests they create a diversion. Zedd summons the Tenga Warriors to do so and the citizens run away from them, except for Kat who walks away in the commotion. The Rangers go into their Ninja Ranger mode to fight the Tengas, but during the fight, Kat goes into Kimberly's backpack and takes her Pink Crane Power Coin, with her jealousy over the latter's relationship with Tommy fueling her decision, especially after finding a photo of Kimberly and Tommy together which she steals too, and decides to take Aisha's Power Coin as well. However, Bulk and Skull escort her away before she can do so, only for her to teleport away without them noticing.

Kimberly starts to feel weak as her connection to the Power Coin is broken, but Tommy comes to her rescue as the Tengas retreat. Reverting to human form, the Rangers check on Kimberly, who is more concerned about where Kat went. Kat presents Rita the Pink Power Coin, and the latter and Lord Zedd decide to capture the Falconzord to render the Rangers defenseless and use its power to charge up the Ancient Zords. Back on the beach, Alpha 5 informs the Rangers that Goldar and the Tenga Warriors are in the park, but Kimberly still feels weak despite claiming to feel alright. However, when they go to get their things, Kimberly finds that her Power Coin is gone, and Billy realizes that her growing weakness is a result of an energy drain. When Tommy tells Zordon what has happened, he realizes that someone evil took Kimberly's Power Coin and Zordon tells the others to use their own Power Coins to recharge Kimberly so she will be strong enough to teleport back to the Command Center. While the others stay and do so, Tommy morphs to fight Goldar and is joined by Ninjor for assistance. Unknown to them, Rita gives Kat the stolen Power Coin and orders her to steal the Falconzord.

While Tommy and Ninjor best the Tengas, Goldar grows giant-sized, forcing the two to summon the Falconzord and grow giant-sized respectively. Before Tommy can attack, Kat teleports into the Zord with the Power Coin behind Tommy, knocks him out, and teleports him out as Lord Zedd claims the Zord and puts it in a birdcage. Goldar bests Ninjor, shrinking him down to human size, while Lord Zedd decides to use the latter as the power source of the dormant Zords. As Ninjor is captured by Lord Zedd, Goldar retreats, leaving Tommy no choice but to return to the Command Center in defeat, but still sure that the Power Rangers will still win.

On the Moon Palace, the villains celebrate their victory and the supposed defeat of the Power Rangers, but while Ninjor refuses to help Lord Zedd, the latter said he has no choice as Finster siphons off his energy. At the Command Center, Zordon explains to the Rangers that when Ninjor gave them the Ninja Power Coins, he linked them to their natural human energy, and when Kimberly's Power Coin was taken, it started to affect her body. While the Rangers start to wonder what Lord Zedd is up to, Zordon fears that the latter found the lost Ancient Zords of Zordnia, and all of this is to create an unstoppable army of Evil Zords. And as Rocky points out, they're powerless to stop them now that the Ninja Zords are out of commission due to the Falconzord's abduction. Kimberly faints due to the energy drain, and Zordon reveals that the only way to save her is to reclaim her Power Coin because if not, she will not survive.

Meanwhile, Kat has the Pink Power Coin in her hands, declaring that Kimberly will soon be out of the picture and she will have Tommy to herself as she rips up the stolen photo of the two in half.

Part 2

Back at the Command Center, Billy scans the unconscious Kimberly and reveals that she's in a deep sleep due to her body growing weak at the loss of her Power Coin. Zordon tells Tommy to look for an alternate power source to match the Power Coins. The Rangers express concern about their inactive Ninja Zords now that the Falconzord is in Lord Zedd's control, and the fact Ninjor will be a power source for the Ancient Zords. On the Moon Palace, Lord Zedd states he needs six pilots for his new Zords. Rito suggests the Power Rangers themselves, and Zedd approves of the idea. He plans to use Kimberly as leverage so it would force the Rangers into piloting the Ancient Zords no matter what.

At the Juice Bar, Tommy vents his frustrations on a punching bag, recalling how Lord Zedd took away his Green Ranger powers. Kat arrives and asks where Kimberly is, but they lie and say the she is busy, and Tommy declines her invitation for lunch. When Rita asks Zedd how he will use Kimberly's condition to their advantage, he creates Inciserator in response. Meanwhile, Alpha struggles to find a substitute power source for Kimberly, when the alarm goes off upon Inciserator's appearance. The Rangers are informed, and they morph to stop him. However, Inciserator proves to be more of a challenge than expected, while Lord Zedd tells Rita to use Kat as bait to lure Kimberly out.

Kimberly starts to wake up and sees her friends fighting Inciserator, but another alarm goes off and she sees Tenga Warriors surrounding Kat. Despite Zordon telling Kimberly to let the others get to Kat after taking out Inciserator and not to exert what little power she has left, Kimberly decides to go despite the risks. Kimberly has Alpha teleport her to Kat's location in her Ninja Ranger mode and faces off against the Tengas alone. Meanwhile, Lieutenant Stone is disappointed by Bulk and Skull's lake incident and finds it strange to find a new monster every week. While Skull claims that it's true, Stone doesn't buy it and gives the two 24 hours to produce a monster he can see, or else they are off the Junior Police.

Kimberly gets overwhelmed by the Tengas and collapses, to which Kat expresses concern until the spell takes effect again. With Kimberly demorphed and unconscious, Goldar takes her to the Moon Palace, while Inciserator takes his leave. The Rangers teleport back to the Command Center as Bulk and Skull take Stone around the park, hoping to see a monster. However, Stone remains unconvinced.

At the Command Center, the Rangers and Zordon realize that they were tricked by Lord Zedd, but Aisha is confused about why he wants Kimberly as he already has her Power Coin. Then, Alpha notices that Lord Zedd has begun the power infusion to the Ancient Zords, while the Zedd tells Rita and Finster that he's draining the rest of Kimberly's powers so she will be useless. Lord Zedd contacts the Rangers himself, telling them where Kimberly is and demands that they teleport him to the Command Center. With little choice, they do so, and Lord Zedd and his throne enter the Command Center. Lord Zedd tells the Rangers that if they want Kimberly back, they will become the pilots of his new Ancient Zords and obey his commands. While the Rangers struggle on an answer, Lord Zedd demands one as he laughs at their predicament.

Part 3

Tommy reluctantly agrees to Lord Zedd's demands, and the Zedd says they will get the Ancient Zords around dusk before teleporting back to the Moon Palace. Meanwhile, Kat taunts the unconscious Kimberly while her powers are drained, but the spell momentarily stops as she regrets putting her in this state. Billy tries to locate Kimberly so they can teleport her out without needing to do Zedd's bidding, while Alpha tries to sever Kimberly's link to the stolen Power Coin. Billy locates Kimberly in Zedd's dark dimension, but he cannot teleport her out until he and Tommy remember the Portal Com they used when the Green Candle was burning out the Green Ranger powers, which Billy still has at his house.
At the park, Billy gets the Portal Com set so the dimensional door will open to Kimberly's location, but warns Tommy that it will remain open for a limited time before the he enters. On the Moon Palace, the villains celebrate until Lord Zedd notices what they are doing, and sends the Tengas down to attack. The four remaining Rangers go into Ninja Ranger mode to defend themselves as Tommy enters the dark dimension. Before Tommy can stop the device that's draining Kimberly's powers, Lord Zedd arrives to stop him. Tommy morphs and engages Lord Zedd, who is too powerful for Tommy to handle alone. Meanwhile, two Tengas knock the Portal Com down and kick at it, breaking it before the rest retreat. While Billy begins working on fixing it, an impatient Rita tells Finster to send a monster down to stop them. Adam asks if there is any way they can control the Ancient Zords themselves without Lord Zedd's influence, and Billy said he could if he can connect them to their Power Coins, just as the See Monster arrives. The four Rangers morph into their Ranger forms but See Monster uses his eyes to emit beams to disorient the Rangers. However, Rocky manages to break through the waves, and the others follow suit.
Growing more impatient by the minute, Rita orders Finster to send down the Ancient Zords despite his reluctance. The Ancient Zords arrive at the Ranger and See Monster's location, who teleports away at the sight, and the Rangers realize that they are out of time. Rita orders the Rangers to pilot the Ancient Zords and attack Angel Grove, but they give Billy the Power Coins so he could reroute the control to them before climbing into the cockpits. Meanwhile, Tommy tosses Saba towards Lord Zedd and breaks his staff, turning it back into a snake and forces him to retreat. Freeing Kimberly from the device, Tommy takes her back to Earth, has Alpha teleport her back to the Command Center, and jumps into the White Ancient Zord's cockpit. Eventually, Billy succeeds in giving them control of the Ancient Zords, but an undaunted Lord Zedd uses Rita's staff to grow the See Monster. With their new Zords, the Rangers attack See Monster with Tommy using the White Ancient Zord to inflict damage. Then, they combine their new Zords into their new Megazord, blocking See Monster’s attack and destroying him. Seeing that their plan has failed, Lord Zedd laments how fun being evil used to be, but Rita reminds him that they still have Ninjor as their captive, and the Pink Power Coin in their possession. Meanwhile, some children fly kites when one with a dragon comes into view of a sleeping Stone, causing him to mistake one for a real monster. As Stone runs off, Bulk decides to play with the mistake so he and Skull can keep their jobs, before returning the kite to the kids and "running" off. At the Command Center, a recovered Kimberly is grateful for her friends' efforts to get her home, but the fact remains that her Power Coin is still in Lord Zedd's and Rita’s possession. While Zordon reveals that Alpha has removed her connection to the coin and she can draw power from the others to morph, Tommy knows that they must get it back soon along with Ninjor. The Ninja Zords will remain deactivated until the Falconzord is reclaimed, but Zordon is sure that the Ancient Zords, now renamed the Shogun Zords, will serve them well. Later that day, Tommy and Kimberly walk along the beach as she realizes that her days as a Power Ranger might be over. However, Tommy reassures her how she comforted him when he lost his Green Ranger powers, and that he will be with her always.

A DIFFERENT SHADE OF PINK

Part 1

At the Youth Center, Kimberly is practicing her gymnastics as Gunthar Schmidt, a world-famous gymnastics coach, sees her on the balance beam and is impressed with her skills. Schmidt asks Kimberly if she will be competing in the Pan Global Trials. Although Kimberly is unsure about it, especially since she does not have a coach, Schmidt offers to be her coach if she dedicates a lot of her time to training for the Pan Global Games. Kimberly takes the offer, but Rita plans to prevent Kimberly from competing by making her too busy and exhausted to do anything. The next day, Kimberly tells everybody the news at the Command Center. While Kimberly is worried that it will take time from her Ranger duties, Zordon tells her that despite being proud about her responsibility and integrity throughout the years, he never wanted any of them to give up their dreams in the process of being a Power Ranger, even giving her his full support. With everybody else giving her their support, Kimberly focuses on her training, with Schmidt acting as her coach, unaware that Kat is watching her in secret. Meanwhile, Bulk and Skull take on a case to find an international spy and think Schmidt might fit the description. Kat reports back to Rita about Kimberly at the park. Rita decides to attack Angel Grove in multiple locations with Goldar, the Tenga Warriors, and the revived Vampirus and Artistmole. When Zordon tells the Rangers this, Tommy knows that they must split up to cover more ground. They agree only to contact Kimberly as a last resort. While Billy and Adam take on the Tengas, Rocky and Aisha face off against Vampirus and Artistmole, and Tommy goes after Goldar. However, Tommy soon gets overwhelmed by the combined might of the Tengas and Rito, and none of the other Rangers are free to help him. With no other choice, Alpha 5 calls Kimberly, who is forced to leave practice, but promises Schmidt that she will be back despite him questioning her commitment. Meanwhile, Bulk and Skull stake out Schmidt and think of a plan before disguising themselves as gymnasts.

At the park, a now morphed Kimberly joins Tommy, but they are still outnumbered and Tommy calls Billy to regroup. However, Rita planned on this, and Tommy and Kimberly are cornered by Goldar. The others arrive as Vampirus is tossed towards Goldar and Rito. With everybody fighting better as a team, the Space Aliens are forced to retreat. Kimberly teleports back to the Youth Center to continue her practice. When she gets back, she sees the aftermath of Bulk and Skull's failed plan, only for her to get pulled back into the fight when Tommy calls. As Kat secretly watches, she remembers when she tried out for the Pan Global Games in high diving, causing the spell to weaken more. Meanwhile, the Rangers circle the villains in the Shark Cycles, with Kimberly reassuring Tommy she can handle it. However, Kimberly starts to get exhausted and faints from overexerting herself.

Later that night, Tommy drives Kimberly back to the Youth Center to practice on the balance beam and said that Schmidt would spot her once his workouts are finished. However, Schmidt is not here due to an appointment, but Kimberly convinces Ernie to let her practice alone, and she will lock up when finished. As Kimberly practices, she stumbles due to her exhaustion. Meanwhile, P.C. changes back into Kat, who recalls how soon after moving to the town, she tried to make friends with a local guy only for him to turn out to be a Tenga, with Rita surprising her and placing her under the spell. She also remembers her final dive during the Pan Global tryouts and hitting her head on the board, ruining her score and injuring herself in the process. This causes Kat to break Rita's control of her, and she frantically heads into the Youth Center to find Kimberly. Watching from the Moon Palace, Rita realizes her power over Kat is gone. Going through the back of the Youth Center, Kat sees Kimberly falter on a flip on the beam and fall off onto the ground in an angle that makes her head hit the ground pretty hard. Kat rushes over to check on Kimberly, who is now partly unconscious.

Part 2

Kimberly is taken to the hospital by Kat and is cared for by Dr. Jacobs. Kat remains anxious and guilty over Kimberly. On the Moon Palace, Lord Zedd is angry about Kat's betrayal, while Rita demands from Finster why the spell faltered. Finster revealed that Kat's selfless deed of saving Kimberly neutralized the spell. Lord Zedd is not worried as Kat did more damage to the Rangers before the spell wore off by putting Kimberly in the hospital. The next day, Tommy and Billy are at the hospital, as Tommy gets off the phone with Mrs. Hart, who is trying to come from Paris to see her daughter. Billy and Tommy notice that Kat looks very guilty, while Schmidt arrives feeling that he should have been there last night. Tommy does not blame him, and Dr. Jacobs announces that Kimberly is awake with no permanent injures. While Billy calls the others, Tommy goes off to see Kimberly, while Bulk, Skull, and Lieutenant Stone are hiding in a laundry bin staking out Schmidt, only to get pushed into the laundry chute. Rito tells Rita about Kimberly's recovery thanks to overhearing Billy's message, dismaying everybody as they have no monster ready. As Tommy sees Kimberly, Rito goes down with a squad of Tengas to keep Rocky, Adam, and Aisha from going to the hospital. The trio morphs into their Ninja Ranger suits and takes on the villains, only to get overwhelmed. Zordon calls Tommy and Billy and has them join their friends but tells Kimberly to stay in the hospital. In their Ninja Ranger forms, Tommy and Billy join their friends, and at the hospital, Kat visits Kimberly to check on her. When Kimberly asks Kat why she was at the Youth Center during the evening, Kat decides to tell Kimberly everything.

At the park, the five Rangers best Rito and the Tengas, forcing them to retreat. Back at the hospital, Kat finishes her confession, saying that there were many times she wanted to tell them what was going on, but Rita's spell kept her from doing so. The others arrive, overhearing Kat's confession. Tommy sympathizes with Kat as he was once under Rita's spell as well, and they forgive Kat for all she has done under Rita and Lord Zedd's influence. Kimberly reveals that she will not return to gymnastics, not wanting to take the risk. The others are shocked, as Kimberly has been doing gymnastics for years. Still, Kim is insistent, and they all reluctantly allow it, although they feel there's more to it than just wanting to stay safe.

On the Moon Palace, Rita berates Rito's failure while Finster finishes his newest monster, Garbage Mouth. Impressed, Lord Zedd gives Garbage Mouth the mission to capture Kat as punishment for her disloyalty. Garbage Mouth and a group of Tengas restrain Kat when she and the five Rangers are outside, but they morph and fight back. After taking down the Tengas, with the Junior Police patrol running away, the Rangers corner Garbage Mouth as Kat breaks free from him by stomping on his foot. The Rangers tell Kat to go inside the hospital to stay safe. Lord Zedd and Rita grow Garbage Mouth, but the Rangers summon the Shogunzords. While Garbage Mouth traps them in a garbage can, they break free and form the Shogun Megazord, not being affected by the monster's sword attacks before destroying him with the Fire Saber.

However, Rita tells Zedd that she has a way for them to get Kat back as they have a bargaining tool to use, the still captive Ninjor.
At the park, Tommy feels stressed about Kimberly quitting gymnastics, only for Rita and Rito to teleport. As Billy and Tommy refuse to give Kat to them, they teleport out while leaving a message behind. The message reads that if the Rangers do not give Kat to them by the end of the day, Ninjor will be thrown into the Sea of Sorrow forever.

Part 3

Back at the Command Center, Billy and Tommy tell everybody what the message said. It puts them in a difficult position as they don't want to lose Ninjor, but they also don’t want to lose Kat. Zordon knows that it's an impossible answer and cannot give them proper guidance this time. Rita and Lord Zedd wait for the Rangers' decision.
At the hospital, Kat reveals to Kimberly that she was supposed to go to the Pan Global Games herself for diving and was the best chance to win the gold for Australia. She lost her concentration during the trials and hit her head on the board, losing the meet by a single point. Kat was too scared of the water after that incident. Kimberly realizes that she’s acting the same towards the balance beam. At the Youth Center, Kat tells Rocky and Tommy that she’s willing to go back to Rita and Lord Zedd for Ninjor as retribution for her actions, but they refuse as both feel there is another way. At the park, the five Rangers and Kat arrive with Billy carrying a device. They call for the villains as Rita, Goldar, and Rito teleport. Before they can grab hold of Kat, Billy activates the device and summons a forcefield on Kat. Tommy throws Rocky the container, but he finds it empty. When the Tenga’s arrive, they morph into their Ninja Ranger forms for battle, but a lone Tenga finds the device and breaks it. With Kat now unprotected, Rito takes her back to the Moon Palace, with Rita and Goldar following suit.
On the Moon Palace, Lord Zedd begrudgingly admits that Rita’s plan worked as she plans on bottling Kat up like Ninjor and sending both to the Sea of Sorrow. Back at the Command Center, Alpha struggles to find Kat. While in her prison, Kat manages to get her cell key by massaging Rito. While massaging him, Kat notices a box outside, and Rito reveals that it holds the stolen Pink Power Coin before dozing off. Now free, Kat gets the Power Coin just as Rita arrives, refusing to listen to her any longer. Meanwhile, Alpha gets a reading that the Pink Power Coin is in the hands of good again, and the Rangers realize that Kat might have it. After readjusting the teleportation system, Billy gets Kat into the Command Center, where she meets Zordon and Alpha for the first time. Kat gives Kimberly her Power Coin back, while Lord Zedd is angry that another plan is ruined.
Later that day, Tommy and Kimberly are at the local pool where Kat invited them, revealing that she plans on doing another high dive. She succeeds, revealing that it was Kimberly that convinced her to face her fears. That also convinces Kimberly to face her fears and go back to gymnastics and perform strongly in the trials. During her celebration party, Schmidt offers her a chance to move to his gym in Florida to train full time for the Pan Global Games and bring the gold to the United States, but the offer takes Kimberly aback.
At the Command Center, Zordon tells Kimberly that while she has been a valiant warrior, the opportunity is too difficult for her to ignore. Kimberly says she doesn’t want to go to Florida despite being her biggest dream as being a Power Ranger is too important. Tommy reminds her that she promised to be true to herself, which Zordon agrees, even reminding her that she can always return if needed. Now convinced, Kimberly admits that she wants to go to Florida, and they all give their blessing to go, especially Tommy. However, the question now remains on who will take Kimberly’s place as the new Pink Ranger, but she already has a candidate in mind, having Alpha teleport Kat into the Command Center. Everybody is happy about this as Zordon expresses confidence in Kat’s selfless bravery. Kat promises to carry on Kimberly’s legacy as she’s given both her communicator and Pink Power Coin, officially making her the new Pink Ranger. When Adam asks if Rita’s spell is gone from Kat, Zordon admits that a strong spell will still have some residual effects on her. Zordon gives Kat the Pink Shark Cycle and the Pink Crane Zord and makes her co-pilot of the White Shogunzord alongside Tommy. Before leaving, Kimberly says how much she will miss her friends, and they do one last “Power Rangers" chant together.

MASTER VILE AND THE METALLIC ARMOR

Part 1

The Angel Grove Police Department has sponsored a horse-riding excursion for Nature Appreciation Week, and the Power Rangers are out with Lt. Stone, Bulk, and Skull on a ride. When the ground starts shaking and darkness falls everywhere, the concerned Rangers teleport to the Command Center only to find everything completely offline, including Alpha 5 and Zordon. The Moon Palace is also rocked violently as a menacing creature in black robes appears in Lord Zedd's throne room. He is Master Vile, the ruler of the M51 Galaxy and father to Rita Repulsa and Rito Revolto.

As the Command Center comes back online, Zordon tells the Rangers of Master Vile and announces that as a precaution against his evil powers, a new Metallic Armor has been developed for their Power Ranger suits that will increase their strength, but is only to be used in dire emergencies. On the Viewing Globe, Kat then spots Lt. Stone looking for her and her friends. While he searches, Stone is anticipating a monster attack and has assigned Bulk and Skull to ride their horses and get help.

Up in the Moon Palace, Master Vile is not impressed with his new son-in-law Lord Zedd and is berating Rita for her choice in husbands. Zedd argues that he still has Ninjor and the White Ninja Falconzord as his captives, but Rito fumbles the vase holding Ninjor and he escapes back to the Command Center. Vile is angry at Rito for his clumsiness, as Ninjor's presence is crucial for his master plan to obtain the Zeo Crystal. Zordon and Ninjor explain that the Zeo Crystal is an ancient relic of limitless power from the M51 Galaxy that was hidden beneath the Moon Palace in the Caves of Deception, and that a force-field prevents all but the pure of heart from taking it.

Vile takes Rito and Goldar to his Space Skull. He creates the monster Globbor to hunt Ninjor and drain his powers, then turn them against the Rangers and suck theirs away so that he can take the Crystal. He hands Zedd a sack of special bird-food for the Tenga Warriors that will boost their power. Once fed, the super-powered Tengas are sent out to pick on humans, starting with Bulk and Skull.

The Power Rangers morph into battle, but are no match for the Tengas and are forced to call Ninjor for help. When Ninjor arrives, Globbor jumps him and teleports away with him in his gooey claws. Faced with desperation, the Rangers activate their Metallic Armor and soon turn the tables on the Tengas. The emergency over, Zordon shows concern over the situation and makes a gamble of his own: one of the Rangers must go to the Caves of Deception, retrieve the Zeo Crystal, and destroy it. Tommy volunteers, but Kat insists on going with him as she knows how to distract Rita and Zedd.

While Tommy and Kat are on their mission, the other Rangers are sent to fight Globbor when he appears in Angel Grove as a giant. Billy installs a new remote-control device into the Shogun Megazord that allows the Rangers to operate both it and the Ninja Megazord in tandem, but Globbor starts draining the Shogun Megazord's power with long-range energy beams. In the Moon Palace, Kat approaches Rita and Zedd and declares that she wishes to rejoin the Evil Space Aliens.

Part 2

Globbor has drained the Shogun Megazord of all its energy, and the Rangers regroup into the Ninja Megazord to continue the fight. Meanwhile, Kat is put in a device that is designed to drain all the good out of her and replace it with pure evil. Tommy can't bear to leave her alone, but Zordon forces Tommy to continue without Kat and get the Zeo Crystal, knowing that it will purge the evil out of her. When Zedd senses Tommy in the Moon Palace, he taunts Kat by saying that since Tommy was once evil himself, the force-field will surely destroy him. Kat refuses to believe this, even as her inner goodness drains away.

In Angel Grove, the Ninja Megazord begins fighting Globbor but quickly starts to be overpowered. Tommy enters the Caves of Deception, with the powers of the cave create a variety of illusions to throw him off. He is first attacked by an illusion of Goldar, then illusions of his fellow Rangers, Rita and Kat, and himself as the Green Ranger all try to demoralize him, but Tommy is able to continue deeper into the cave where the Zeo Crystal awaits. Ignoring more illusions of Master Vile and Kat, Tommy grabs the Zeo Crystal. The force-field activates and tears into him, and memories of all the evil acts he had performed flash through his head. However, his memories of all the good he had done for his friends since allows Tommy to withstand the force-field and take the Crystal. With its power, Tommy returns to Zedd's throne room, frees Kat from the machine, and takes back the White Ninja Falconzord from its birdcage as they all teleport away.

Back in Angel Grove, the Ninja Megazord is on the ropes in the fight against Globbor and it's starting to look like the Rangers will have to abandon it. However, Tommy and Kat arrive in the Falconzord and join up with the rest of the Rangers to defeat Globbor with the Ninja Megafalconzord dive-punch. The monster survives and transforms into a parody of Ninjor, allowing him to continue fighting with the powers he had stolen from the ninja master. The Shogun Megazord is brought in via remote-control to double-team Globbor, and the Rangers start to land heavy blows on the monster. On a nearby building, a bound Ninjor is seen taking the damage from the hits. Master Vile appears and tells the Rangers that every blow they make on the monster will hurt Ninjor. Unable to risk hurting their friend, the Rangers are forced to back off allowing Globbor to inflict critical damage on the Megazords. After several hard hits, the Rangers are ejected from the Ninja Megazord and are sent falling into an alley.

Vile teleports the Zords and the Zeo Crystal out of the city and off of Earth, and Globbor is shrunken down to finish the Power Rangers off. Globbor then starts draining the Rangers powers, forcing them to summon the Metallic Armor. Although it offers some protection, it is not enough to prevent their powers from getting further drained. Using their last bit of power, the Rangers use the Armor to summon an energy wave to knock Globbor down, then teleport away.

Bulk and Skull arrive at the Juice Bar and find Ernie, but Master Vile and the Evil Space Aliens appear and send them all into a panic. Now that Vile has won, he intends to celebrate by hosting the last party Earth will ever have before he destroys the planet.

Part 3

Zordon taps directly into the Morphing Grid to recharge the Rangers' powers, but they are still weary from Globbor's attack. At the Juice Bar, Master Vile's party is in full swing as the sun is eclipsed in darkness. Everybody in Angel Grove is forced into attendance alongside scores of monsters.

Billy tracks down the vanished Megazords and Falconzord to a distant planet in the M51 Galaxy, where they sit rusted and motionless. With no guarantee that they will have enough power to get back, the Rangers teleport across the galaxy to the Zords' resting place. Using their Blade Blasters, the Rangers carve away the rust and gain access to an emergency exit in the Ninja Megazord's big toe. The Zords suddenly activate as Master Vile summons the Zeo Crystal's power, causing them to fire devastating energy blasts at Earth. In order to break Vile's connection, the Rangers feed the energy of their Power Coins through the Crystal. Eventually, the connection is broken allowing the Rangers to regain control of the Megazords. They then all teleport back to Earth.

Lord Zedd reports to Vile that the Power Rangers have the Zords back and are returning to Earth, so Globbor is sent out again. This time, Globbor uses all the power it had absorbed from the Rangers and their Zords to become a multi-headed monstrosity, giving both Ninja and Shogun Megazords and the Falconzord a brutal beating. Alpha figures out a way to stop Globbor, and uses the Command Center's power to end the solar eclipse. Exposed to sunlight, Globbor's stolen powers vanish from him, and Ninjor is able to free himself from Vile's captivity.

Furious, Master Vile enlarges himself to destroy the Rangers, while Ninjor arrives in Battle Mode to provide support. After destroying Globbor, the Rangers form the Shogun Megafalconzord and best Vile. Defeated but not distraught, Vile retreats in his Space Skull.

In the mountains, the Rangers summon the Metallic Armor to protect them as Tommy uses Saba to shatter the Zeo Crystal into five sub-crystals, which are all teleported through time and space so that Master Vile can never reassemble them. The crisis averted, they all head back to finish their horse-riding expedition.

RANGERS IN REVERSE

The Power Rangers, minus Kat, meet in the Juice Bar to discuss plans for her upcoming birthday, while Rita Repulsa is boasting to Lord Zedd that Master Vile's newest plan will destroy them all for sure. Vile has summoned the Orb of Doom, which will freeze the Earth's rotation and reverse time so that the Rangers will be powerless children. Zedd has his doubts about this plan, especially since he had already tried a similar plan, but Vile calls Zedd an amateur and has Rito Revolto place the Orb outside Angel Grove.

At the carnival, Lt. Stone is trying to enjoy a day off, but runs afoul of Bulk and Skull as they work the parking detail. Nearby, the Rangers take off Kat's blindfold to reveal that they have taken her to the carnival for a surprise birthday party. As they are all enjoying themselves, the Rangers are summoned to the Command Center and given urgent orders from Zordon to stop the Orb of Doom from activating.

The Rangers morph and meet with Rito. Goldar and a flock of Tenga Warriors arrive to defend the Orb, and half of the Tengas break off to attack the carnival. The Rangers are forced to separate. Tommy, Rocky, and Kat focus on the Orb while Adam, Aisha, and Billy use their Metallic Armor to defend the carnival from the Tengas. The opposition is too strong to beat and Rito is able to plant the Orb. With the Orb in place, Master Vile summons its power and throws the Earth's rotation in reverse, which has the effect of reversing everybody's age in Angel Grove.

The Rangers themselves are turned into children, along with Bulk and Skull and Lt. Stone. Zedd, Rita, Goldar, and Rito soon arrive in the carnival to enlarge themselves and trash the city, and the child Rangers are unable to morph in defense.

MIGHTY MORPHIN ALIEN RANGERS RECAP

ALIEN RANGERS OF AQUITAR

Part 1

Everybody in Angel Grove has been reduced in age due to Master Vile's Orb of Doom, and now Lord Zedd, Rita Repulsa, Goldar, and Rito Revolto are giants and on a destructive rampage through the city. As everybody runs for their lives, the child Power Rangers realize that they can't teleport or even call Zordon without their powers, and so they must reach the Command Center on foot.

Suddenly, they are shrunken back down to normal by Master Vile. Zedd is furious at his father-in-law's interruption, and Rito slips away from the group as Vile teleports them back to the Moon Palace as punishment. When he spots the Rangers running off, Rito calls down some Tenga Warriors and forms a plan to take the Power Coins while they are helpless.

As they try to find their way through the city, the Rangers bump into Bulk and Skull, both now children like themselves. The bullies recognize Billy, but don't remember any of the other Rangers since none of them had lived in Angel Grove at the current point in time. Billy realizes that the Power Coins have allowed him and his friends to retain their memories of each other and the knowledge of being Power Rangers. Rito and his Tengas suddenly appear and chase all the kids for their coins. With no powers, the Rangers instead rely on their surroundings to set traps and deter their pursuers, but the noise attracts the attention of the police.

Rito and the Tengas are sent back to the Moon Palace, where Master Vile has already moved on to the next step of his plan. In order to destroy Zordon and the Morphing Grid forever, Rito and Goldar are tasked to plant an implosion device beneath the Command Center and blow it up. As to Angel Grove, Vile has summoned monsters from all across the galaxy to his conference where they make plans to destroy the city as a unified force.

Back in the city, the police have taken the Ranger kids down to the station for curfew violations. Tommy and Kat, having been separated from the others while fighting Rito, pose as Billy's mother in a trench coat and convince the police chief to let their friends go. They are later forced to hike to the Command Center in the middle of a fierce sandstorm, unaware that Goldar and Rito are following them.

Inside the offline Command Center, Alpha 5 and Zordon are trying to remember what they were doing that required everything to be turned off; the Command Center's loss of power resulted from a loose plug. Once everything is turned on again, Alpha teleports the child Rangers to the Center. They are safe, but Zordon cannot give the Rangers any powers due to their reduced ages being a liability. If any of them perish, Earth can never return to its proper place in time.

It is decided that new Power Rangers are needed to protect Earth. Alpha knows of a watery planet called Aquitar, which is inhabited by a race of alien humanoids and protected by its own team of Power Rangers. Zordon fears for their safety as the Aquitians cannot live outside of water for very long, but he is reminded by Rocky about how the Rangers were willing to protect Edenoi when the Masked Rider Dex needed their help. Zordon understands and sends out a galactic alert to Aquitar. Just outside, Goldar and Rito have planted the implosion device at the Center's base and are lighting the fuse.

Part 2

The Aquitian Power Rangers: Delphine, Corcus, Cestro, Aurico, and Tideus answer Zordon's call and introduce themselves. Though Zordon still shows concern for their ability to function on Earth, Delphine assures him that they will not hesitate to protect the planet regardless. For their Zords, Cestro reveals the Battle Borgs, humanoid robots given to them by Ninjor which are similar in function to the Shogunzords but are controlled telepathically and have no Megazord mode. Zordon assures the Aquitian Rangers that they will have full control of the Rangers' Ninja and Shogunzords when the need arises.
The alarms sounds as the implosion device is detected outside the Command Center. Alpha volunteers to go out and defuse it himself, while the Ranger children are teleported to the beach to meet with the Alien Rangers. Alpha is able to stop the implosion device from going off. Realizing that his plan has failed and now sensing the Alien Rangers' presence, Master Vile sends Goldar and Rito down to make sure nothing else can ruin his plans. Bringing some Tengas with them, the pair decide to attack the Ranger children, but the Alien Rangers arrive and force them back. Names and greetings are shared, and Billy goes with the Alien Rangers while the other kids head for home.
As the visitors are instructed on summoning the Shogunzords for when the Battle Borgs are insufficient, the Viewing Globe shows Crabby Cabbie, Parrot Top, See Monster, and Brick Bully's second form converging in the desert, led by Vile's field general Professor Longnose. The Alien Rangers morph into action and fight, though they are initially overwhelmed. Longnose makes the whole group grow, while the Alien Rangers bring in their Battle Borgs and begin to show more success. The Shogunzords are summoned and formed into the Shogun Megazord to finish off Longnose as the other monsters run away.
With all of his brilliant plans foiled, Master Vile complains and whines on the ground. Rito and Rita pick him up. She is points out that it's her job to vent in anger, while Vile is supposed to be the adult here. Rita tells him to stop behaving like this because he's embarrassing her like this. Fed up, Vile announces that he's going back to the M51 Galaxy much to Lord Zedd's pleasure and leaves. Lord Zedd reasserts his command over the Evil Space Aliens and declares that everybody will do things his way.
The Ranger kids watch a news report proclaiming Angel Grove's gratitude for their new group of unknown saviors. Zordon does not know how he will restore the Earth to normal, but the Mighty Morphin Alien Rangers promise that they will do all they can to protect the planet until he can find the answer.

CLIMB EVERT FOUNTAIN

In the Command Center, Billy and the Alien Rangers are hard at work on a special machine that will restore the Ranger kids to their normal ages. However, Billy needs to get to school and tells the Alien Rangers to stay in the Command Center until he gets back, as he feels that their alien appearances wouldn't sit well with Earth's people. In the Moon Palace, Lord Zedd forms a new plan to remove both Earth's and Aquitar's Power Rangers at once.
As school lets out for the day, Billy and Adam head off to Billy's house while the other Ranger kids ride home with Bulk and Skull, both of them armed with water balloons. The bus ride suddenly hits a bump when Rito Revolto and Goldar climb aboard and try to get the Power Coins from the kids, but the water balloons prove effective in fending them off. Zedd and Rita send the duo back down to keep watch on Billy as his project nears completion.
At Billy's house, Billy and Adam finish work on the Regenerator, which Billy hopes will restore the Ranger kids to normal once the Power Coins are inserted into it. As Billy and Adam leave, Rito suggests to Goldar that they follow them. Goldar halts Rito and reminds him that they have to report back to Lord Zedd, but Rito presses on that they follow Billy and Adam and grab the Power Coins when all six Rangers are together. As Billy and Adam walk down the sidewalk, they feel like they're being followed. Soon they meet up with the other Rangers, who along with Adam hand their Power Coins to Billy. Billy says that on its lowest setting, the Regenerator should rearrange their molecular structure and turn them back to normal. As Billy inserts the coins, Rito and Goldar appear. Rocky tells Billy to hurry as he and the others prepare to defend themselves. Billy tests the machine on himself, and it works, but Rito and Goldar chase after him and the other Rangers. Soon they appear in front of the Rangers and Goldar steals the machine. Billy attempts to take it back, but Rito blasts him into a wall with his eyes. As the young Rangers check on Billy, Goldar removes the Power Coins from the machine. Zedd and Rita arrive, with Zedd commending Rito for succeeding and turn the Power Coins into dust. Rita and Zedd head back to the Moon and Rito and Goldar follow them after Rito tosses the Regenerator aside, causing it to break upon hitting the ground. Back in the Command Center, the Alien Rangers are getting weak from dehydration and are forced to leave to find water. The closest source of water is the fountain in the center of town, which causes a panic with the local citizens as the Alien Rangers teleport in and absorb the water.
On the moon, Rita looks through her Repulsascope and views the Aquitians rehydrating in the town square fountain, which she comments on. Zedd sits on his throne, delighted that the Aquitian Rangers are alone in the center of town and the Power Coins have been destroyed. When Zedd asks what more could they ask for, Rito suggests a monster attack, which Zedd agrees with and turns the Regenerator into the monster Slotsky. Billy and the Ranger kids are teleported away just in time. At the Command Center, the six learn of the Aquitian Rangers' situation and Billy goes to alert them. Slotsky makes his appearance just as Billy is calling to them and the monster summons the Tenga Warriors to destroy them. Fully hydrated, the Alien Rangers morph and fight back to rousing applause from the public. When Zedd and Rita make their monster grow, the Alien Rangers summon their Battle Borgs and destroy him.
The Alien Rangers are given the highest honors as Angel Grove celebrates their bravery. Billy is relieved that the Alien Rangers can be in public, but the Power Coins are gone forever, the other five of his own teammates are still stuck as children, and the Alien Rangers can't stay indefinitely. Billy realizes that things are only going to get worse, much worse.

THE ALIEN TRAP

Billy is building a Molecular Hydro-Atmospheric Generator that will purify the lake to Aquitar standards and give the Aquitar Rangers a reliable source of hydration for what may be an extended mission on Earth. As the young Tommy and Kat sit in the park guarding the prototype, an old lady spots them and asks where their parents are. She nearly wrecks the prototype, but Billy arrives and claims that they are his younger siblings. With her out of the way, Billy has the two Ranger kids sort through his suitcase for parts to build the final version, unaware that Lord Zedd has his eye on the device.

Later, Cestro is working on the device with Billy in the Command Center while the other Ranger kids are at the lake where the other Alien Rangers have just bought out and eaten an entire truck's worth of ice cream out of sheer delight for the taste. When they see Little Bulk and Little Skull fishing and are told that they plan to eat the fish they catch, the Alien Rangers are shocked and disgusted. Using their powers, they give the fishing lines a good yank and send the bullies into the lake. However, this dries them out quick, and so the Ranger kids must escort them to the north side of the lake for some solitude as Billy prepares the device and puts it in the water.

Rito Revolto and Goldar show up to harass them, but the Alien Rangers summon enough strength to defeat them. Zedd and Rita then decide to sabotage Billy's plan by sending the Barbaric Brothers, Erik and Merrick, to pollute the lake while the Alien Rangers are rehydrating. Rito shows up again and uses a force-field to keep them in place as the toxic water courses through their bodies. With the Alien Rangers trapped and dying, the Ranger kids and Billy are forced to act fast and trick the force-field remote out of Rito's hands with a game of tag.

The Alien Rangers escape, but are still weak from the dehydration and poisoning. Nonetheless, they morph and fight on when Zedd makes the Barbaric Brothers grow. Their Battle Borgs are nearly destroyed, but the Aquitar Rangers manage to summon the Shogun Megazord and beat the brothers in one blow.

Billy's device is ruined beyond repair and the Alien Rangers have no choice but to return to Aquitar and rehydrate there. Delphine promises that they will return when Zedd and Rita launch their next attack, but the future still remains uncertain.

ATTACK OF THE 60’ BULK

The Ranger Kids go to the Splash City waterpark with Billy(whom is posing as Tommy's uncle) and Mr. Wilton. Though they are looking forward to having a fun time, the kids can't help but feel worried for the Alien Rangers after their recent battle. To reassure them, Billy calls Zordon. Their mentor reports that they all made it back to Aquitar safely then tells the Ranger kids to enjoy the day so their altered bodies and minds can get some relief.
At the Moon Palace, Lord Zedd and Rita Repulsa have come up with a plan. They summon Rito Revolto and Goldar for a mission. Unfortunately the two are seen squabbling over the littlest of things. Lord Zedd orders them to be quiet and listen up. He and Rita found a weak link in the Command Center's line of defense. Their objective is to infiltrate the abandoned tunnels beneath it and plant a destruction mechanism that Finster made beneath the facility that will blow Zordon and the Morphing Grid to antimatter. Goldar states he will go, but Rito isn't coming with him. Zedd tells him off that's not up for discussion, pointing out that he will take Rito regardless so he doesn't make a nuisance of himself. To distract the Rangers, Rita and Zedd decide to turn the meanest kid they can find into a monster.
Back on Earth, everyone and including Mr. Wilton are having a good time. In one part of the park, Bulk and Skull attempt to cut in line. They are stopped and confronted by a burly lifeguard. This makes Bulk and Skull nervous knowing that's coming next since they were caught by him. The lifeguard orders them to behave themselves and follow the rules at once. Intimidated, Bulk and Skull complies to his orders and head off to another slide. Katherine is seen laughing at the two being put in their place by the lifeguard
Back at the Moon Palace, Zedd is frustrated by this and wonders if there is a mean child in that class. Rita encourages him to keep looking. She mentions that their day is about to be more rotten because Rito and Goldar both forgot to take the destruction mechanism with them before they left. Zedd is embarrassed further by their foul up. In the abandoned tunnels, Rito pull the map out and is about to look through it when he and Goldar hears Rita shouting at them. She reprimands the two for forgetting the device and forcing her to deliver it to them, handing it to Goldar. He and Rito continue to squabble over who is to be in charge of the mission. Rita shouts at the two to get their act together before Lord Zedd shows up and confronts them. Rito tears the map in half and give one half to Goldar. Rita is frustrated, gets a headache in dealing with those two and leaves.
Rita and Zedd finds a potential mean kid in Bulk after a prank he and Skull pulled. When Billy confronts Bulk on his recent prank of throwing inner tubes on the waterslide, Bulk suddenly turns into Bratboy and throws Billy into the water. The Ranger Kids hold Bratboy off while Billy dries off the communicator and contacts Zordon, who summons the Alien Rangers.
Once they arrive, the Alien Rangers lure Bratboy into chasing them across the waterpark. Frustrated, Rita and Zedd make the monster grow and the Battle Borgs are summoned, but Bratboy proves too strong for them. The Ranger kids then arrive and shout to Bratboy that he is their friend Bulk, causing him to fight the evil spell placed on him and return to normal again.
The Aquitians head back to Aquitar to rehydrate once again while the Ranger kids take Bulk back to Splash City and convince him that he was dreaming while Bratboy. Skull shows up and reminds Bulk that he had been turned into a monster. He denies it, but Skull keeps insisting.

Elsewhere, Goldar and Rito are still in the tunnels of the Command Center but are having trouble with sharing their halves of the map. Things are made harder when Rito burns Goldar's half by accident.
Zordon teleports the Rangers back to the Command Center to tell them that the one thing that will restore them and the Earth to normal is the Zeo Crystal, the very relic that the Rangers themselves shattered and cast through time and space. Once reassembled, it will restore their ages and give them powers greater than before, but the pieces of the Zeo Crystal are in different countries and time periods. Billy insists that he should go to get the pieces because he's older. Zordon tells him that the crystal pieces will only respond to the other Rangers as they are still affected by the time warp caused by Master Vile and the Orb of Doom and this will also be a quest involving their heritage. Despite the danger it poses, the young heroes agree to take up the journey.

WATER YOU THINKING?

The Ranger children and Alien Rangers head out to a deserted field in preparation for the beginning of the Zeo Quest. The children are unsure as to how they will find the pieces of the Zeo Crystal, but Delphine tells them to look towards the spirits of their ancestors to find the way. One by one, each child leaps into the portal, and soon only Billy and the Alien Rangers are left. Up above, Lord Zedd prepares to finish off the Alien Rangers by sending down his old friend Witchblade and forming a shield around Earth to block the Battle Borgs from arriving.
Young Rocky arrives in a desert, where a young Mexican boy named Pablo is herding a goat. When asked about crystals, Pablo tells him of a crystal in a volcano above his village, one that nobody has ever been brave enough to claim. Rocky insists that he needs the crystal, and Pablo agrees to show him the way.
In the present, Cestro is getting dehydrated again and needs to get to a source of pure water. As the Command Center cannot get reliable data due to Earth's altered place in time, Billy and Delphine decide to go to the Angel Grove Aquarium and speak with the marine wildlife on where to find some pure water. Bulk and Skull are also going to the aquarium for a detention-mandated school report and are excited to meet their new heroes the Alien Rangers. Down in the tunnels, Goldar and Rito Revolto are still on their mission to plant their bomb beneath the Command Center, but are hopelessly lost and have decided to split up.
After asking a fish for directions, Cestro morphs and teleports to the quarry outside of town where a stream of pure water runs nearby. He is ambushed by Witchblade and made to fight for his life beneath the hot sun. Meanwhile, Rocky and Pablo have reached the volcano. Pablo mentions that his father expects the volcano to erupt soon, but Rocky is not dissuaded and begins his climb alone.
Back in the underground tunnels, Goldar is seen with a box of popcorn and the destruction mechanism. He laments that while Rito continues running around in circles, he will leave a trail of popcorn for himself to find his way back.
After being called by Zordon, Billy tells the other Alien Rangers that Cestro needs help. They morph and relieve their friend from Witchblade's attack. When Zedd and Rita make her grow, the Alien Rangers find that their Battle Borgs are not appearing when summoned. The Shogun Megazord is summoned instead and defeats Witchblade. Zedd and Rita argue over their loss and wonders what is taking Goldar and Rito so long.
In the tunnels, Goldar finds himself at a dead end and heads back using the trail of popcorn he left behind. However, it is all for naught as he finds himself in Rito's presence. Goldar yells at him for eating the popcorn trail and thus they remain lost. Rito apologizes for it, but mentions he was hungry and that was the only food source he could find.
Rocky descends into the volcano and barely manages to pull the Zeo Sub-Crystal out despite the heavy trembling. He comes out to find Pablo and the villagers congratulating him for stabilizing the volcano now that the crystal has been pulled. Realizing that he never asked Pablo's name, Rocky does so and mentions that his grandfather was also named Pablo, and he understands exactly what Delphine was saying about the spirits of his ancestors. As Alpha 5 removes Zedd's shield and Rocky returns to the present with his Sub-Crystal, the Power Rangers have taken their first step towards returning Earth to its normal place in time.

ALONG CAME A SPIDER

Billy, Cestro, and Tideus are busy with their Zeo Crystal Transformer that will restore the Earth to its proper place in time once the Zeo Crystal is reassembled, but Billy lacks a phase modulator and needs to go to Angel Grove University in order to get one, so the two Alien Rangers are left to guard his lab.

Somewhere in the past, Adam has just arrived in Korea, which he recognizes as the place where his grandmother was born. His Zeo Quest requires him to find a wise man, and a local villager tells him of a legendary figure named Kai Ogi who lives in a waterfall.

Cestro and Tideus start feeling dehydrated while waiting for Billy and leave his lab to go search for water. Seeing the opportunity to crush them, Lord Zedd creates Arachnofiend from a spider in Billy's lab while Tenga Warriors chase the Alien Rangers to a local car wash. While the Alien Rangers hydrate, the Tengas get soaped, waxed, and soaked.

Beneath the Command Center, Goldar and Rito Revolto are still lost in the tunnels and are trying to get their bearings, but their attempts to draw a map turns into an impromptu game of Tic-Tac-Toe and nothing gets done.

As he continues his search in Korea, Adam sees an old man following him. Adam tries to tell him that he is on a quest and does not have time for distractions, but the man feels "the spirit of the frog" in the young child and insists that he follow. The child Ranger attempts to ask other villagers about Kai Ogi, but no one can provide an answer. The old man jokes that Adam has a frog in his throat.

At the university, Billy meets with a team of researchers as they prepare to fire a model rocket. The head researcher Dr. Kender is impressed with Billy's interest in science and agrees to give him the phase modulator. He then returns to his lab only to find no Alien Rangers and a hungry Arachnofiend, who webs him up and takes him away.

When Cestro and Tideus return to find webs everywhere, Zordon summons them to the Command Center with the rest of the Alien Rangers and informs them of Billy's situation. Deep underground, the Alien Rangers cautiously traverse the web-covered caverns, unaware that they are being stalked by Arachnofiend. When the monster attacks, the Alien Rangers fight back until Rita and Zedd make it grow. The Battle Borgs prove ineffective, but the Shogun Megazord defeats Archnofiend.

In Korea, a defeated Adam pauses to rest near a waterfall when the old man cryptically tells him that in his haste, he has overlooked his true goal. Adam realizes that the old man is Kai Ogi, and he is rewarded with the Zeo Sub-Crystal as it sits behind the waterfall.

With two Sub-Crystals recovered and Billy's Transformer finished, things begin to look up for the Rangers. Goldar and Rito wandering back to the tunnel entrance, making Goldar lose his temper again.

SOWING THE SEAS OF EVIL

For his Zeo Quest, young Tommy arrives in the middle of a Native American village and attempts to ask the villagers where to find a "shiny rock". One of them points to a falcon flying overhead, which confuses Tommy until he realizes that he should follow it. Elsewhere, young Kat has landed in the Australian Outback and begins her own search for a Zeo Sub-Crystal.
In Angel Grove, Billy is working on his Weather Modulator with Cestro, which will allow him to create purified rain water for the Alien Rangers to hydrate with. As they work, Billy asks Cestro if Aquitar has any villains like Lord Zedd to deal with. Cestro tells him about Hydro Hog, Emperor of the Dark Waters and the archenemy of the Alien Rangers. Zedd overhears from the Moon Palace and decides to send Hydro Hog an invitation to Earth in order to deal with their mutual enemy.
Still following the falcon, Tommy is surprised to see a man sitting behind him. He introduces himself as True of Heart and tells Tommy that he has been waiting for him. True of Heart guides Tommy to a set of etchings on a rock wall, where he tells a tale of how a visitor will come and retrieve a crystal of great power. When Tommy asks where the crystal is, however, the wise man laughs. In Australia, Kat sees what looks like her own adult self driving by in a jeep and asks for help in finding a crystal. The woman introduces herself as Agatha and offers to show Kat the way.
In the Moon Palace, Finster is building a dimensional teleporter that will send Hydro Hog to Earth, and the energy drain involved is detected by the Command Center and the Alien Rangers. Under their feet, Goldar and Rito Revolto are still lost in the tunnels and are arguing over who has to hold the bomb next. When Rito tries to pass the bomb onto Goldar, he accidentally activates it.
Billy completes his Weather Modulator and Cestro tests it to great success. Rita demands that Zedd do something about it, and Tenga Warriors are sent down to destroy the device. Cestro is unable to stop them as they wreck it and fly away.
Back with the Zeo Quests, Kat and Agatha pause to see an old lady who resembles Kat lost on the road. She asks that someone help her home, but Agatha insists that they continue on towards the crystal. Kat chooses to help the lady and leaves Agatha. Meanwhile, True of Heart tells Tommy that to find the crystal he must let go of who he is and reach out to the identity within himself. With the forces of nature as his guide, Tommy begins his search.
Zedd prepares to activate the teleporter, and the Alien Rangers panic when they realize that he intends to send Hydro Hog to Earth. Alpha 5 immediately takes action to block the teleport from going through.
The old lady is finally home, and she rewards Kat's selfless decision to help her by giving her the Zeo Sub-Crystal she seeks. Meanwhile, Tommy reaches the top of a cliff and sees three Sub-Crystals before him, only one of which is real. Trusting his heart, Tommy picks the correct one. True of Heart congratulates Tommy and gives him half of an arrowhead as a memento of his quest, then tells him that the other half will be found when the time is right. As the pair are returned to the Command Center, Alpha and Billy finish the adjustments and stop Hydro Hog's arrival. Zedd swears that he will bring the Emperor of the Dark Waters to Earth yet.

HOGDAY AFTERNOON

Part 1

With the Zeo Crystal just one piece away from being completely reassembled, Zordon is concerned over how unusually calm Lord Zedd is. Billy, the Ranger children, and Alpha 5 can do nothing but wait for Aisha to arrive with the last Sub-Crystal. Aisha herself has just landed in Africa, where wild animals prowl on the savanna, and a large lion is eyeing her.

In the Moon Palace, Lord Zedd orders Rita Repulsa to get in contact with Goldar and tell him to hold off on destroying the Command Center until the Zeo Crystal is complete, then steal it and bring it to him before detonating the bomb. To neutralize the Alien Rangers, Zedd intends to bring Hydro Hog to Earth, but this time he will throw Zordon off with a decoy signal so that the tyrant of Aquitar can slip through undisturbed.

Aisha panics as the lion gets closer, but she is pulled to safety by a villager and the lion walks away. The villager, named Tanya, tells Aisha that the lion and many other animals are suffering through a plague that is making them sick, confused, and liable to attack anything they see. When asked about where her parents are, Tanya explains that her parents were explorers and vanished while on an expedition, leaving her in the care of a local village that she is now taking Aisha to. With no other option, Aisha follows her new friend.

Zedd fires the decoy signal, which drives Alpha to react and block it. Zedd then fires the real one and Hydro Hog responds. As he has been bored since the Alien Rangers left Aquitar, he eagerly accepts Zedd's offer to attack Earth and arrives at Angel Grove Lake, just narrowly missing the Rangers as they finish rehydrating and teleport to the Command Center. When they detect Hydro Hog's presence, they morph to do battle with their nemesis. The fight turns into a disaster for the Alien Rangers; Hydro Hog steals their swords and repeatedly strikes them, then proceeds to suck the water out of their bodies before draining all the water out of the lake.

In Africa, Aisha tells Tanya of her quest, and Tanya suggests seeing Ashalla, the wisest person in the village. However, even she cannot explain the source behind the plague, and neither can the wildlife researchers. Aisha mentions that she worked at an animal shelter and suggests that she can help, but Tanya explains that they don't need help, they need a miracle.

Back in Angel Grove, Hydro Hog has finished draining the lake and has left to seek more water to drain. Alpha tries to teleport the Alien Rangers to a swimming pool so they can rehydrate, but Hydro Hog has anticipated this and drained the pool by the time they land. Unable to move and with Hydro Hog draining water everywhere on Earth, the Alien Rangers can't stop him.

Down in the tunnels beneath the Command Center, Goldar and Rito have finally reached the prime location to set their bomb, which is already activated. Rita arrives and tells them not to blow up the Command Center until they capture the completed Zeo Crystal. Unable to leave due to their new orders and unable to stop the timer, Goldar and Rito can do nothing but wait for the Aisha to bring her crystal back. Meanwhile, Aisha is running for her life with Tanya to get to the village before sundown, when the animals start their nightly hunt.

Part 2

As Hydro Hog continues his rampage, large storm clouds holding his accumulated water shroud the entire planet. While Billy and Alpha work on a hyper-ionization beam to force the clouds into raining, the Ranger Kids gather bottled water from whatever sources they can find to help the Alien Rangers.

Aisha arrives in the village with Tanya, and Ashalla welcomes her. Recognizing the name as one shared by her great-aunt, Aisha listens closely as Ashalla tells her about the plague and how the animals' extinction could mean the village's own if it's not cured. Ashalla then tells Aisha that her arrival was foretold for some time, and that she may be the one who can help the land recover. Aisha only wants to find the Sub-Crystal, and so Ashalla gives it to her in the hopes that she will stay and use it to save them.
The Ranger Kids are giving the Alien Rangers as much bottled water as they can carry while Billy activates his device. The beam triggers just enough of a rainstorm on Angel Grove to get the Alien Rangers back on their feet, and they morph once more to confront Hydro Hog. When Rita and Zedd make Hydro Hog grow in size, the Shogun Megazord is summoned to counter him, but he is still too powerful. Billy still has his remote-control for the White Ninja Falconzord, and he is able to summon it and form the Shogun MegaFalconzord to destroy Hydro Hog forever.
With Earth safe, the Alien Rangers rehydrate. All that remains is Aisha, who is taking Tanya and the Sub-Crystal to where she first arrived in Africa. As Zordon gets in contact with her, Aisha tells him that she intends to stay in Africa and change her family's history in order to help the animals, while Tanya will be returning with the Sub-Crystal in her place. Having anticipated this, Zordon says his farewells to Aisha and validates her decision. As Tanya is being teleported to the Command Center, she promises that she will make her friend proud, after which Aisha says that Tanya already has.
In the Command Center, Tanya hands the last piece of the Zeo Crystal to Billy, who reassembles the relic and activates the Crystal Transformer. At once, the reversal caused by Master Vile and the Orb of Doom is erased as Earth rotates forwards. The planet is now back where it belongs in time and all the Power Rangers are restored to their original ages, and Tanya has grown into a teenager. Aisha herself is restored to her age and is living in Africa with Ashalla.
The Rangers leave to say their goodbyes to the Alien Rangers as they return to Aquitar, while Tanya stays with Alpha to get acclimated with her new present. Suddenly, Goldar and Rito teleport into the Command Center and steal the Zeo Crystal before leaving. When the Rangers return, they are shocked to see that the relic they worked so hard to obtain is no longer there. At that moment, the timer on the implosion device hits zero.
Explosions start going off all around the Rangers and Alpha, and Zordon orders them to evacuate. The Rangers initially refuse and try to at least save Alpha by having him leave with them, but the chaos going on around them keeps throwing them off their feet. Zordon tells Alpha to teleport the Rangers out, and as Alpha goes to do so Billy saves the robot from an exploding console but is injured. Alpha then succeeds in teleporting the Rangers out, and then presses buttons on the console as it sparks wildly. The Rangers land just outside the Command Center in time to see it explode, throwing them all off their feet.
As the dust settles, the Rangers recover and are devastated to find smoldering ruins where the Command Center once stood. With no way of knowing if Zordon or Alpha survived and with the Zeo Crystal gone, the Rangers are despondent. Tommy tells the team that this could truly be the end of the Power Rangers